COMMITTEE FIREWORKS ARE LACKIN

TEXAS DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE SESSION WAS TAME AFFAIR

COURT ACTION EXPECTED FOLLOW DECLARATION OF PARTY NOMINEE

LUBBOCK, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Governor R. S. Sterling today filed a formal contest of the nomination of Mrs. Miriam A. (Ma) Ferguson before the state democratic executive committee.

By R. W. BARRY
(Associated Press Staff Writer).

LUBBOCK, Sept. 12.—(AP)—The democratic state executive committee met today to certify the results of the close party gubernatorial race between Gov. R. S. Sterling and Mrs. Miriam A (Ma) Ferguson, with the latter expected to show the most votes on the official tabulation.

The official vote was to be checked by a sub-committee with representatives of both candidates looking on.

The state convention tomorrow will receive the committee's recommendations and officially put out the party's candidate. A platform of principles was being drafted for ratification by the Democrats.

In spite of all the uproar over the closeness of the race and charges of irregularities preferred by Governor Sterling, who claimed he had obtained a "majority of the legal votes cast and would be nominated and elected governor," there was not much contention on the part of friends of the governor.

It was apparent that tomorrow's convention would be in the nature of a love feast for the Ferguson cohorts, for the first time since 1924, when Mrs. Ferguson was elected the states first woman governor, there had been rejoicing in that camp of the Lone Star commonwealth's strange political school.

Sterling Arrives.

Governor Sterling arrived this morning to be present at the convention, after his friends had given up hope that he would attend. He did not put in an appearance at the executive committee session. However, he was greeted by a throng when he reached his hotel—not the one where the Fergusons were stopping.

James E. Ferguson, the gubernatorial nomination claimant's husband, also a former governor, came into the room while the committee was in session. He walked about and shook hands.

It was apparent the Ferguson forces would not meet any active opposition in the convention, although R. A. Stuart of Fort Worth who campaigned for Governor Sterling, said a formal protest based on alleged irregularities in the primaries, would be lodged with the committee.

Stuart said the governor would contest in the courts Mrs. Ferguson's nomination.

Owsley or Kirby.

Alvin M. Owsley of Dallas, was being talked about as the temporary chairman of the convention. John Henry Kirby of Houston has been proposed as permanent

Hundreds of Central Texas Folk Expected Here For Trade Event

Every merchant in Corsicana is co-operating in the preparations for the Corsicana Fall Buyers' Festival to be held on September 15, 16 and 17, and is extending a cordial welcome to every resident of the area included in the trade territory naturally belonging to this city.

Plans were started for this event several weeks ago and a majority of the merchants have secured special merchandise which will be offered to the buying public of the Corsicana trade area as "welcome gifts" on the first trade days of the autumn of 1932. Plans for the special event were worked out by the Retail Trade Extention committee of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce, with all merchants co-operating.

"Look For The Yellow Card" will be a popular slogan for shoppers during the three days of the campaign, for a showcard of that color will be used by all merchants in uniform style to designate their specially offered merchandise.

Special Rates Offered.

Special rates have been offered on bus lines for travel to Corsicana during the three days. The Bowen Motor Coaches have offered a roundtrip for one-way fare between Palmer and Centerville, and applications have been made for special rates on steam lines running into Corsicana.

Members of the committee have termed the Corsicana Fall Buyers' Festival as the first step in an intensive campaign to inform and demonstrate to the citizens of the area within a radius of thirty to forty miles of Corsicana that a complete "Central Texas Market for Central Texas Peaople" is available in Corsicana ,whether the needs be in the dry goods, notions, drugs, hardware, clothing, automobiles, automobile tires or accessories, furniture in fact anything that is desired for the person or home may be found in Corsicana, with a range of prices and quality to fit every need.

All Weather Roads

For many years Corsicana has been virtually isolated from the surrounding territory by impassable roads for much of the fall and winter seasons, but with the completion of an approximately three-million dollar road building campaign in Navarro county, and proportioinal expenditures in surrounding counties, this city is now attainable in a few minutes drive from almost every section of Henderson, Ellis, Hill, Limestone and Freestone counties.

Where residents of the rural sections have been either faced with a limited selection of merchandise in a smaller community, or the necessity of patronizing mail order houses, they now have the opportunity to see their desires in a wide variety on the shelves of merchants of Corsicana, and are sure to find the needed article in the price range most suited to their means.

Sixteen huge banners swung across the streets of the business section of Corsicana have served to call the attention of citizens and visitors to the shopping carnival. Practically every merchant in the city has received his complete stock of fall merchandise, purchased on the lowest market in many years and priced on a basis of five-cent cotton, giving the buying public the greatest opportunity for economical buying afforded them in many years.

Welcome For All

It is not the purpose of the merchants of Corsicana to draw trade from their brother merchants in the smaller communities according to members of the committee in charge of the arrangements of the campaign, but Corsicana desires to serve the residents of its trade territory with merchandise not obtainable in the smaller stores without the necessity of going to the metropolitan centers of the state or of purchasing from mail order houses.

A hearty welcome waits visitors in every store in Corsicana, and with the special attractions offered by the individuals, many buyers are anticipated.

A special editioin of the Corsicana Semi-Weekly Morning Light bearing greetings and special offers from the Corsicana merchants will be distributed Tuesday over a wide area, extending an invitation to attend the first Corsicana Fall Buyers' Festival."

Jap-Manchukuo Treaty Will Be Signed Sept. 15

TOKYO, Sept. 12.—(AP)—The ceremony of signing a basic treaty embodying Japan's recognition of Manuchukuo is scheduled for September 15 at Changchun with Ambassador Muto representing Japan and Premier Cheng Siano-Hsu acting for Manchukuo.

Progress of the treaty has been unimpeded through the privy council stage here and the emperor is expected to give it his sanction on Sept. 14. After the document is signed at Changchun the Japanese foreign office will publish formal notification with an English translation of the text.

BANDIT RAIDS AND TRAIN WRECKS NEAR HARBIN COST 24 LIVES; MANY ARE INJURED

HARBIN, Manchuria, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Twenty-four persons were killed, upwards of 70 injured, and undetermined number kidnapped and 600 robbed in a series of three combination bandit raids and train wrecks near here within 24 hours.

In addition to these casualties more than 200 were killed and several wounded in a battle between Japanese troops and Chinese bandits 60 miles farther south near Tahsing. The Japanese clashed with 700 bandits who were raiding along the Chinese Eastern railway on which the three wrecks occurred.

Twelve passengers were killed, [illegible] injured, and 600 robbed in the first wreck when the bandits derailed the regular Changchun-Harbin train at Shwangcheng. The train left Harbin late Saturday night.

Six passengers were killed, 14 injured and 100 kidnapped in a second wreck of a passenger train bound for Harbin in the neighborhood of Chengkaotze, on the Eastern Chinese Railway.

Six Japanese were killed, several wounded and several others missing after the derailment and wreck by bandits of a Japanese hospital train near Shwangchen, near where the first train was wrecked. This train was carrying 50 Japanese passengers and a number of sick Japanese soldiers.

Among those aboard the first train was Henry Hilgard Villard, son of Oswald Garrison Villard, publisher of The Nation, New York. He was not injured.

Villard saved his money and his passport by concealing them under his shirt, but all his baggage was stolen and his clothes were torn to shreds. Nevertheless, he went on toward Manchuli by way of Changchun.

The holdup of the train on which he was a passenger occurred during the night 40 miles from Harbin when 50 desperadoes, having ripped up the rails, attacked when the train struck the gap in the track.

They began looting immediately, ignoring the cries of the dying. The injured lay in the wreckage until daylight. Those who survived owe their lives to the fact that they were in steel cars.

The Soviet consul at Dairen and the Soviet trade representative there were among those who were robbed.

In another bandit raid on a golf course here, George C. Hanson, United States consul general and a party of British and Americans fought their way to safety with their golf clubs and two of the British members of the party were wounded seriously.

BELIEVED LATEST TROPICAL STORM IS CHANGING COURSE

DISTURBANCE EXPECTED TO HIT LOUISIANA AND MISS TEXAS COAST

PORT ARTHUR, Sept. 12.—(AP)—The course of the tropical disturbance in the Gulf of Mexico shifted direction today in such a manner that it probably will miss practically the entire Texas Gulf coast. Its new course was toward the Louisiana coast.

At 10 a. m. the weather bureau at Washington issued a report indicating the disturbance centered about 26 north and 92 west. It was moving slowly north northeastward with increasing intensity. Vessels in its path were cautioned.

Last night the storm was travelling in the general direction of Port Arthur but its deflection probably will relieve the Texas coast of the danger which impended.

A month ago a hurricane on the Texas coast killed more than 4 0persons, most of them in small towns some distance south of Galveston. The intensity of the new disturbance was uncertain. No vessels in the area it had covered had made reports.

So far the weather in this section was normal. Barometers were little below average levels. Near Galveston last night island ranchmen drove cattle to high ground and campers were warned to

Navarro County Cotton Ginnings Reach 8,993 Bales

There were 8,993 bales of cotton, counting round bales as half bales, ginned from the 1932 crop in Navarro county prior to Sept. 1, as compared with 3,597 at the same time last year, according to figures released Monday by R. M. Albright, special agent.

REICHSTAG REFUSES TO HEED DECREE OF DISSOLUTION MONDAY

VOTE OF NON-CONFIDENCE IN VON PAPEN CABINET CARRIED OVERWHELMINGLY

BERLIN, Sept. 12.—(AP)—A communist motion of non-confidence in the cabinet of Chacellor Fraz Von Papen was voted by the reichstag today 513 to 32, with 50 members abstaining.

The motion was carried after the chancellor had promulgated a decree dissolving the reichstang and Hermann Wilhelm Goering, national socialist speaker, had declined to enforce the decree pending action of a technicality before the house.

Coupled with the non-confidence motion was a demand for the emergency decree by which President Von Hindenburg legalized the economic program of Chancellor Von Papen be rescinded.

This dramatic turn in events left parliamentarians uncertain regarding the exact status of the reichstag.

This confusion was increased by Speaker Goering, who declared that the chancellor's decree of dissolution would be ignored in view of the fact that the government had already been overthrown.

In an atmosphere that was most tense Chancellor Von Paper appeared on the dais holding in his hands the decree of dissolution which had been signed a week ago by President Von Hindenburg for just such an emergency.

COUNTY BUDGET OCCUPIED TIME OF COMMISSIONERS

RETURNS RECENT TAX REPEAL ELECTION CANVASSED AND RESULT DECLARED

Discussion of various phases of the budget for Navarro county expenditures for the year from Aug. 1, 1932 to July 31, 1933, occupied considerable time at the regular session of the Navarro county commissioners court Monday morning, and indications were that the final vote on the proposed budget as prepared by County Judge Clay Nash, assisted by J. M. Tullos, county auditor, would not be reached Monday. The returns and results of the election held in Navarro county Saturday, Sept. 3, for the repeal of the 10-cent road and bridge maintenance tax were canvassed and declared showing there were 2,065 for the repeal of the tax and 468 votes for the retention of the tax, a majority of 1,597 for the repeal. Commissioner J. Wesley Harris of Blooming Grove

ODD FELLOWS HOME SCHOOL OPENS AND BOARDS IN SESSION

THREE OF HOME BOARD HELD JOINT MEETINGS AT THAT INSTITUTION TODAY

Formal opening of the I. O. O. F. school and joint meetings of three of the home boards were held at the Odd Fellows Home Monday morning, marking the inauguration of the new year.

Faculty members for 1932-33 were introduced to the student body and at the close of the exercises met with the members of the three boards.

E. Q. Vestal, grand secretary of the order, announced that the committee on applications would be held bi-monthly in the future, the next meeting scheduled for the second Thursday in October. It was also reported that there were 305 inmates of the Odd Fellows Home at Corsicana on Sunday, the lowest total during the incumbency of Ross G. Harris as superintendent. The grand secretary said the boards met at the home each year at the opening

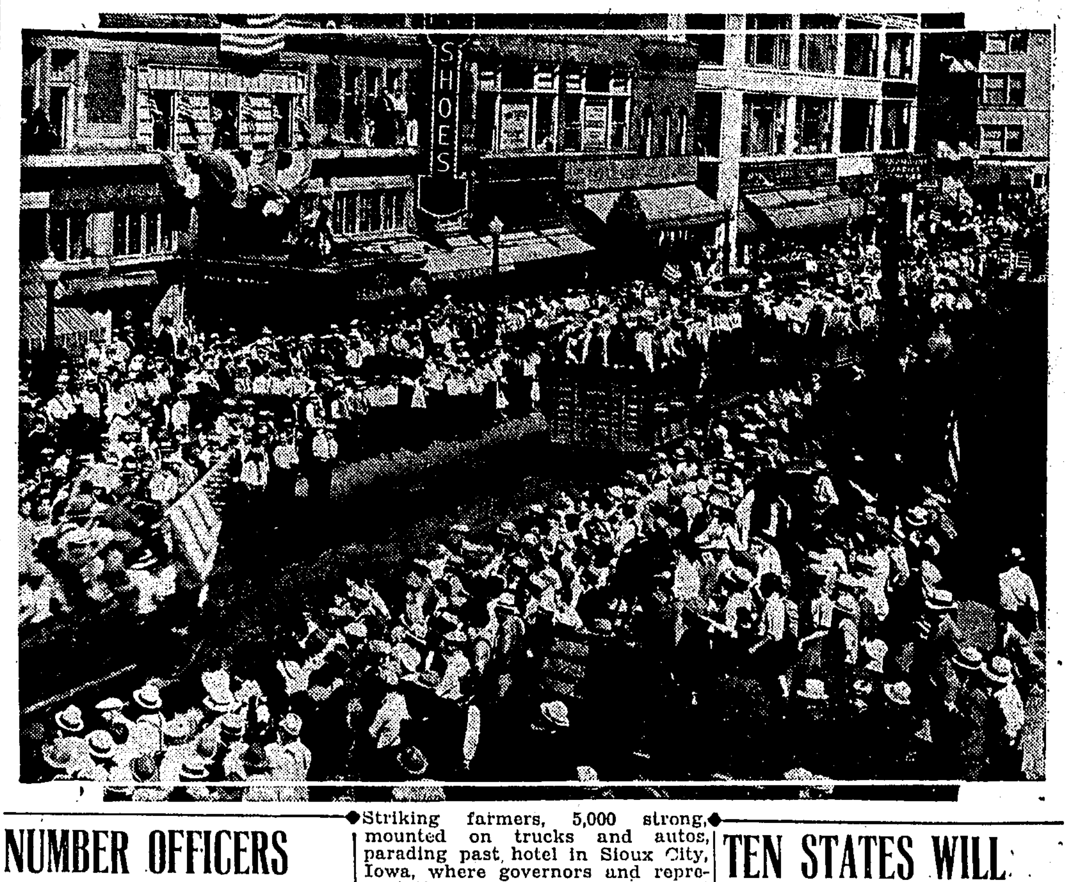
Striking Farmers Parade



Striking farmers, 5,000 strong, mounted on trucks and autos, parading past hotel in Sioux City, Iowa, where governors and representatives of nine Middle West states held conference in effort to solve some of the many problems confronting farmers. The official conference on arm problems was held in the room just below the American lag in the upper left of the picture. The parade was orderly, although the strikers had attacked newspaper photographers a few hours earlier.

NUMBER OFFICERS WERE CITED FOR CONTEMPT SUNDAY

MATTERS GROWING OUT OF TRUCK INJUNCTION BECOMING MORE COMPLICATED

A number of highway and other officers were cited for contempt of court Sunday by H. F. Kirby, district judge, of Groesbeck, to appear in district court here Sept. 16 for the alleged disregarding of an injunction issued Aug. 31, restraining and enjoining all officers from molesting, interfering with or arresting several cotton truck operators of Navarro county for alleged hauling more than 7,000 pounds.

Those cited were L. G. Phares, chief of the highway patrol, Austin; W. D. Roberts, lieutuenant of patrol, Houston; Campbell Overstreet, justice of the peace, Houston; W. W. Sterling, adjutant general of Texas, Austin; O'Brien Stephens, district attorney, Houston; Sam Lewis, assistant district attorney, Houston; and Ross Dickey, highway patrolman, Corsicana.

Attachments were issued Monday against Phares, Overstreet, Roberts and Dickey.

The order issued by Judge Kirby ordered the arrest of those charged with alleged contempt and bail was authorized in the sum of $1,000.

The petition recites that complaints were filed before Overstreet in Houston against D. A. McCulloch and Irvin Prater, Sept. 7. Bonds were made of $200 each for McCulloch and Prater Saturday.

BELIEVED EIGHT LOST AS AIRPLANE IS FORCED DOWN

FLYING HUTCHINSON FAMILY AND CREW OF FOUR CALLED FOR HELP

ANGMAGSALIK, Greenland, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Amid ice floes that gnashed ominously rescue vessels searched without much hope today for six adults and two small girls—the "flying family" of George R. Hutchinson.

Their flight from New York toward Europe culminated yesterday in frantic S O S calls—and then silence. Hutchinson reported his plane had been forced down off eastern Greenland on its way here from Julianehaab, near the southern tip of Greenland. It was feared all eight perished in the icy water.

The Hutchinson family, father, mother and two daughters, with a crew of four, left New York Aug. 23 on a flight by easy stages over the northern trans-Atlantic route to Europe. They hoped to be the first family to cross the Atlantic in a plane.

The British steam trawler, Lord Talbot, was 25 miles away when she picked up the S O S signal about 10 a. m., (Eastern Standard time). She raced for the location given but four hours later found

SCHOOLS OPENED MONDAY MORNING; 2.801 ENROLLED

DECREASE SLIGHTLY MORE THAN HUNDRED FROM FIRST DAY LAST YEAR

Another almost uninterrupted nine months of class-room-confinement awaited 2,801 Corsicana public school children as the 1932 fall semester opened Monday morning, with a full day's schedule being run.

The first day enrollment figures compiled shortly before noon today by W. H. Norwood, superintendent of public schools, showed a decrease of 117 over last year's registration of 2918. A decrease of 76 in the junior high school's enrollment of 444, was noted, due to returning the high sixth grade to the grade schools.

Registration and program making has been under way at the junior and senior high schools for the past week, and well over 900 students were on the rolls prior to the opening day.

The following registration figures of all the Corsicana public schools with the total enrollment of last year were announced today by Superintendent Norwood:

High school 467, last year 459; junior high school, 444, last year 520; Sam Houston, 530, last year 514; Robert E. Lee 291, last year 308; William B. Travis 478, last year 507; David Crockett 66, last year 83; Stephen R. Austin 88, last year 102. Total white schools enrollment 2364, last year 2493. Tires Advanced To Cover Federal Tax On Monday

AKRON, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Goodyear, Goodrich, Firestone and other Akron rubber corporations today declared an 11 to 15 per cent tire price increase to cover the federal excise tax effective today. Last June the raise was announced formally as effective the 21st of that month but it failed to go through then, Firestone refusing to make the jump until mail order houses added the tax to tires they sell. The mail order houses have now added the tax.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Dow, Jones and Co. said today that leading tire manufacturers were advancing tire prices 11 to 14 per cent and tube quotations 15 per cent.

TEN STATES WILL HOLD ELECTIONS DURING THIS WEEK

MAINE HOLDS ELECTION TODAY AND MUCH INTEREST ATTACHED TO OUTCOME

(By The Associated Press.)

The voters of ten states as farflung as Washington and Maine write their story of X's this week.

Maine was first, holding its state election today, two months ahead of most of the country. Eight states follow tomorrow with primaries, the week's procession ending with the Georgia primary Wednesday.

States where primary elections will be held tomorrow are: Arizona, Colorado, Louisiana, Michigan, New Hampshire, Vermont, Washington and South Carolina.

In some of tomorrow's voting national issues and national figures are involved. In others interest concentrates upon state affairs. All are being watched by national republican and democratic leaders to see if they may not give some indication of what November holds.

Maine has been the immediate foru of orators for the two major parties. Secretary Mills of the treasury wound up the campaign for the republicans Saturday night. Senator Walsh and Governor Ely extolled the cause of the democrats Friday.

The republicans ,through their state chairman, forecast victory

GOVERNOR DECLA WILL MEET FERGUS BEFORE CONVENTIO

DECLARES IF MRS. FERGUSON NAMED NOMINEE HE WILL GO INTO COURTS

LUBBOCK, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Governor R. S. Sterling said today he would meet "Jim Ferguson on the floor of the convention" tomorrow to contest the nomination of Mrs. Miriam A. (Ma) Ferguson for governor.

Governor Sterling said today he would take his fight for the democratic nomination for governor to "the highest tribunal in this state."

"I have come to Lubbock to continue my fight for good government and the purity of the ballot in Texas and if a Ferguson steam roller convention halts me tomorrow my route from Lubbock leads to the highest tribunal in this state," the governor said.

"I will meet Jim Ferguson on the floor of the state convention tomorrow and with me will be the representatives of this half million Texans who have so loyally followed me. If on that convention floor illegal ballots again defeat the forces of honesty I shall next meet Jim Ferguson in the courthouse.

"I have no concern of the ultimate outcome and I say to all who are with me in this fight—and I know they are in vast majority—be of the greatest hope and cheer.

Calls Mass Meeting.

"I have sent out a call for a mass meeting on the night of this very day, where on the eve our our stand against impure suffrage they shall guide me in the procedure of the only course which we can follow—a judicial expose of the illegality which evidence already convinced me has threatened the highest office of our state."

"I am told that 10,000 people awaited by arrival in Lubbock Sunday morning and were at the railroad station to receive me. I am sorry that a misunderstanding resulted which ended in their disappointment that I had not come on the train they anticipated. I am here now. These same thousands are surrounding me. It is supreme encouragement in the face of such a crisis as Texas now faces. We shall emerge the victor.

"Too, I desire to mention that on every hand my friends are mentioning the delightful hospitality of Lubbock. Already, I have been engulfed in it. But who is surprised at hospitality in West Texans, a wonderful people of a wonderful state."

Van Allowable Cut

AUSTIN, September 12.—(AP)—The Texas railroad commission today entered an order reducing the daily allowable production in the Van Oil field from 50,000 barrels to 45,000 barrels. The order will become effective September 15. Hearing on the field was held several days ago.

PREDICTED LEGION SESSION WILL DEMAND AN IMMEDIATE PAYMENT OF SOLDIER BONUS

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 12.—(AP)—Reversal of its stand of a year ago against immediate payment of the soldiers' bonus was widely predicted as delegates assembled here today for the opening of the annual national convention of the American Legion.

At least 35 state delegations have come instructed to demand federal cash for the ex-soldiers and sentiment was crystallized at a preconvention caucus of bonus proponents led by Representative Wright Patman of Texas last night.

One member of President Hoover's official family, Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley, is attending the convention, but he announced he had not been invited to speak.

Haford MacNider, who recently resigned as United States minister to Canada, and who also is a former national commander of the Legion, came here as a member of the Iowa delegation but was forced to return home because of the illness of one of his children.

MacNider declared unfounded rumors he and Hurley had been dispatched by the administration to combat bonus sentiment. He said he expected the Legion to be "sensible," but added that "some state departments are coming here with resolutions of approximately 12 words which if adopted would ruin the finances of the country."

Speeches by distinguished guests including Josephus Daniels, wartime secretary of the navy; greetings from state and city dignitaries and the annual report of Henry L. Stevens, Jr., national commander made up most of the first days program.

On Tuesday, drill teams, bugle and drum corps, department units with thousands of Legionnairies in line and floats and bands will swarm through downtown streets, rain or shine.

Even busier than the main convention are the auxiliaries' meetings, and the annuaul conclave of the Forty and Eight, the Legion's fun-making organization. The Fort yand Eight will have its parade tonight and the organization's official program was begun this afternoon.

Lobbies of downtown hotels were denuded of rugs and movable furniture except plain board tables and more durable varieties of chairs. Laundry bags underwent major operations rendering them unfit for holding water. At the 1931 convention in Detroit, laundry bags filled with water were dropped from hotel windows during the Legion parade and pillows were split open to waft their feathery insides over the parading thousands.

nurses who are in league with the big interests, which are out to re-elect Hoover. They also believe that once they have attained their purpose they will pull the props from under the market, leaving the people with a good hold on the bag and the manipulators with a firm hold on the president.

Not so with the revivalist. He finds something genuine in the rise of the market, arguing to himself that prices were too ridiculously low to stay that way and that while business has not come back confidence is returning and the one follows the other. His theory is that prosperity is due to stage a comeback irrespective of anything the government may or may not do.

Seemingly irreconcilable, the manipulationists and revivalists are actually not so far apart. Even while hurling verbal bricks at each other their hearts beat as one. The manipulationist sees the sinister hand of the money interests behind every move but hopes there is something real behind the market and the revived public confidence. The revivalist is irritated by this doubt and suspicion but hopes that if things do not revive quite as he has predicted that the Wall Street nurses will provide an artificial stimulant.

POLITICAL LANDSLIDES.

Over in Athens, college professors are digging up the Agora, the ancient business district and market place in which Athenians centered their political activities. Most fourth reader boys and girls remember about Aristides. Well, recently the excavators discovered some of the actual votes which helped to ostracize him.

Good democrats, those early Greeks were. Their system of ostracism was the earliest form of recall, only it had the additional kick in it that the recalled didn't hang around afterwards running for office at each succeeding election. He had to get out of the country and stay out for 10 years.

But keeping upright on the surfboard of popularity was just as hard in the old days as now. This Aristides was a great and good man. He came out of the Marathon battle with a reputation like that of Admiral Dewey or Richmond Pearson Hobson. Everybody in Athens was shouting for him. Right then he began to topple.

There was a young politician pushing into the limelight and he and his followers started a whispering campaign. Pretty soon the Athenians were voting to oust the national hero.

Poor old Aristides, unrecognized, loitered beside the voting place and saw a citizen marking his ballot. "Want to ostricize Aristides, do you?" he remarked, "what has he done?" "Oh, nothing, I guess," was the typical answer, "Only I'm kind o' fed up on hearing him called 'the just.'"

And in that interesting quality of the electorate lies the explanation for some of the political landslides we we have seen in this country.

JUST FOLKS

SUMMER COTTAGE VISITORS

'Tis strange that summer visitors are usually the kind
Who bring their appetites and leave their bathing suits behind.
They bring their flannel trousers and their outing raiment fine.
But when it's time for swimming trunks they always borrow mine.

Sometimes they bring a friend along we've heard no word about.
An extra room is needed, so from mine I'm ordered out.
I grin and say: "It's quite all right. The merrier the more!
Any anyhow I've found that I sleep better on the floor."
We stretch the dining table to accommodate the throng.
I scarcely hear what mother says, the distance seems so long.
The salt's a city block away; so's sugar for the tea,
But in the gayety which reigns they're never passed me.

Pile up the place with visitors! What's mine is theirs to wear.
I couldn't stand a summer home unless my friends were there.
And I wouldn't want a castle on the river Thames or Rhine
Unless I had it crowded with those happy friends of mine.

FARMERS' BLOCKADE FUTILE.

Another disillusionment and disappointment is in store for the farmers involved in the movement known as the farmers' holiday in the Middle West, the same farmers who expected so much from congressional nostrums and got so little in the form of farm relief.

What they are trying to do is create an artificial shortage of food in the cities and towns where they sell their produce so it will bring higher prices. They are wise in realizing that scarcity of supply brings higher prices, and that no other sound way of making and keeping them higher is known. But they have chosen a futile weapon, it is feared.

If the consuming centers they are blockading were entirely at the mercy of the blockaders, they could be forced into accepting higher prices, but such is not the case. Only a small part of the food they consume is produced on neighboring farms, and the pinch of poverty separates the farmers themselves and persuades many to betray their own neighbors and colleagues.

How can the embattled farmers succeed when the farm board with its millions failed and the Night Rider movement of years ago failed in a similar attempt and under much more favorable circumstances? Only by enlisting the loyal support of every food producer and importer in the country and by strictly enforcing a nationwide blockade could they hope to accomplish anything worth while.

It is impossible not to sympathize with men and women who are forced to sell the fruits of their toil for less than nothing but the history of agrarian griefs and remedies does not argue that the present movement will accomplish anything more than slight and temporary relief. If the farmers want higher prices, they must plant less or dispose of their surpluses.

JINGO PROPAGANDA.

"We love to delude ourselves," wrote Goldsmith. We do, and nowhere more than in our interpretation of politics and foreign affairs. People who are simpleminded and trustful in other matters will lend credulous ears to any oracle who rises to explain that things are not what they seem in politics and affairs of state and that international relations are all compact with plot and counterplot. Nothing seems to be incredible when told of politicians.

A perverse imagination twisting the facts does even better when applying the detective faculty to actions and statements by foreign governments. They must never be taken at their face value. That would be both stupid and unpatriotic. One must always look for the sinister purpose behind the fair-sounding words.

DISCONTENTED VOTERS.

Governor Roosevelt is being taken to task by Republican spellbinders because he is basing his campaign partly upon discontent and seeking to "make politics out of human misery." The Hoover defenders, unable to play the same game this year, naturally think it unethical and unfair.

The G. O. P. cheering section has either suffered a lapse of memory or is trying hard to forget. Perhaps it never heard of the "full dinner-pail" and "chicken in every pot" slogans of the Republicans in 1928. The Hoover ballyhooers can scarcely be ignorant of the fact that their candidate four years ago warned the country of the ruin and desperation which would fill the land if the Democrats won the election. That was clearly one way of capitalizating discontent. What is the difference between crying out in dread of possible human misery and crying out against actual human misery, except that Governor Roosevelt can see what he cries out against and Herbert Hoover in 1928 could not?

Edmund Burke spoke of the heavy drafts upon the "bank of discontent" which are always drawn by the people in a time of party controversy. Reasonable or unreasonable, there it is. That it will enter vitally into the coming presidential election every man in his senses knows. Partisan orators do not need to dwell upon it or magnify it. It is deeply implanted in the consciousness of millions of voters.

There is really only one issue in this campaign—all others are a part of it, even the prohibition issue. And that issue is the economic issue. The people know that the Hoover administration failed to keep its prosperity pledges or to strike a really effective blow at the depression. The one thing they want to hear now is how Governor Roosevelt and his party would go about correcting the multitude of Republican errors.

Why should the Hoover managers worry about a special series of William Penn stamps? They know rock-ribbed Republican Pennsylvania won't strain a rib.

STANDARDS OF PROSPERITY.

One of the best achievements of the American people has been in the enlargements of the list of what are considered human necessities. And it is a surprising fact that while the range of necessities has been vastly enlarged, the level of costs for the individual items tends to decrease.

Franklin Hobbs, economist, told a Chicago convention of architects recently that the average general price level now is about 25 per cent below that of a century ago. But that does not mean that it is cheaper to live now. In fact Mr. Hobbs estimated that it costs the average individual about 10 times as much to live now as it cost the average individual to live 100 years ago.

"It costs each of you," said Mr. Hobbs, "three times as much to live now as it cost you in 1900 even though you live no more extravagantly now than you lived then. The difference in the cost is the amount required to buy the things that were not in existence in former times but now have come to be regarded as necessities."

There is vital significance in these observations. There is a reason why each revival from a period of depression promises a wave of prosperity greater than ever before enjoyed. The scope of activities supplying what humanity regards as its needs continually broadens. Once it was sufficient to provide simple shelter, food and clothing for the great mass of the population and general wellbeing was thought attended to. History records that a king set as his ideal of prosperity for his people that every peasant should have a fowl in the pot on Sunday.

But right now the American ideal of normal good times is that every American family should have its car and a good many should have two or three; that every house should have a radio, a telephone, electric lights and energy for operating labor-saving devices, an oil heater and mechanical refrigeration, besides an abundance of clothing, foods and other elemental comforts taken for granted.

CHEAPER ELECTRICITY.

The last decade has witnessed an amazing interconnection of existing electric power systems in the United States to form several great units of distribution physically though not financially conected. The consumer has benefited from this linking-up process because the price of power has been constantly downward.

The great advantage of this physical inter-connection of plants lies in the assurance of continued power at any point in the system in the event of local generation trouble or a sudden increase in the demand that cannot be supplied by the local station.

Another benefit, and one that saves consumers money, is the capital saving for power companies in not being required to provide reserve equipment. Reserve equipment is expensive and any reduction means less capital charges to be borne by the electricity sold and is one of the factors which have enabled electric light and power companies to reduce the price of electricity.

One tremendous hook-up takes in 75 per cent of the manufacturing area of the United States and stretches from Maine to the Middle West and from Canada to Florida.

This tremendous massing of kilowatts should not be accepted as a forerunner of a power monopoliy or a time when a few central plants will produce all the power. Small local plants are important cogs in the system, though they cannot always meet peak local loads.

TEXAS YIELD OF COTTON PER ACRE PLACED AT 141 LBS.

INDICATED YIELD FOR STATE BY STATISTICIANS IS 4,082,000 BALES

AUSTIN, Sept. 9.—(AP)—Statisticians for the federal-state crop reporting service forecast today a Texas cotton yield this year of 141 pounds per acre. A yield of 141 pounds applied to 13,908,000 acres for harvest gave the state's forecasted production of 4,092,000 bales.

"The condition on Sept. 1," the report said, "is estimated at 61 per cent of normal, compared with 67 per cent last year and 52 per cent the ten year average Sept. 1. The condition of 61 per cent indicates a yield of 141 pounds per acre, compared with 165 pounds last year and 126 pounds the ten-year average."

The report pointed out that the outcome of the crop would depend on weather conditions the rest of the season.

"The increase in forecast over Aug. 1," the report explained, "is caused by the indicated increase in yield in the Northwest, North West and West Central portions of the state and by the fact that the prospective abandonment will not equal the ten-year average which is assumed Aug. 1. The abandonment is placed by our crop correspondents at 2 per cent compared with 3.6 per cent, the ten-year average. The Eastern third of the state, from the Rio Grande to Texarkana, shows a lower condition than the five year average, but the remainder of the state shows a higher condition than the five year average. Present conditions indicate an unusually high yield er acre in the Northwest and West Central districts.

The condition in the various districts was given as follows:

Northwest 75 per cent compared to 70 per cent last year; North, 59 per cent compared to 71 last year; Northeast, 53 compared to year; West 79 compared to 82 last year; West-Central, 73 compared to 71 in 1931; Central, 57 compared to 65 in 1931; East, 53 compared to 68 last year; South, 53 compared to 53 last year, and Southeast 44 compared to 72 last year.

Texas cotton production last year was 5,320,000 bales. More bolls per plant were reported safe Sept. 1 than had been reported safe during any other year at the same time since 1925, with the exception of 1931. The indicated per cent of cotton ginned Sept. 1 was less than any year since 1924 except for 1926 and 1931.

STORM OF PROTEST CONTINUES IN TOKYO OVER PHOTOGRAPHS

FURORE RAISED BY PICTURES JAPANESE BUSINESS AND INDUSTRIAL PLANTS

By GLENN BABB
The Associated Press Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, Sept. 10.—(AP)—The storm of protest which has developed the last two days over the photographing of a number of Japanese business and industrial buildings by the National City Bank of New York assumed a more serious aspect today and led to diplomatic action.

Delegations from several Japanese patriotic societies visited the branch of the Bank of Osaka and attempted to intimidate its Japanse employes. Osaka newspapers came out again with full pages devoted to protests against the photographing and printed a number of other reports to hint the United States was making other preparations for possible war.

Ambassador Joseph C. Grew immediately arranged for an interview with the Japanese foreign minister, Count Uchida, and called on him at the foreign office this afternoon.

The newspaper charges, which included a long list of American activities, such as the presence of the American fleet in the Pacific, an alleged cruise of three airplane carriers along the Kurile Islands, and establishment of new American air bases on the Aleutian Islands, also were broadcast over the semi-official radio station at Osaka.

The charge that the bank's photographs might get into the hands of the United States war department for use in mapping targets for air bombing raids was reiterated.

The newspaper Kokumin Shimbun, which led the criticisms, said there were many "manifestations of serious intentions of America against Japan."

Earlier in the day, the American embassy asked the Japanese government to issue a statement exonerating the National City Bank and to assert that through investigation showed the charges to be utterly unfounded, but the government did not immediately accede to the request.

Officials of the branch bank explained that the photographs, which were taken in accordance with instructions from the bank in New York, were to be used in promotion matter illustrating business and industrial developments in the Far East.

A Big Event For The Buying Public

Corsicana Merchants are cooperating to give the public the biggest merchandising bargain festival ever attempted before. This big bargain event will be for three days, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, September 15th, 16th and 17th, and will be known as the Corsicana Fall Buying Festival. On these three days many thousands of dollars will be saved by the shoppers on this season's merchandise, which has been pouring in from the markets of the nation, with the same high quality, as can be found anywhere, and at prices that will be so attractive that you will have to buy.

There will be bargains and attractive values in every store in Corsicana at this time, regardless of what you may need and want to buy. This is a time when you can in the opening of the fall season equip yourself, family and home with all of the necessities and luxuries you need. Such opportunities for money saving that every buyer will be rewarded with values that only a city-wide event like this could possibly produce.

Now is the time to buy the things you have been needing so long while the prices are so low. Also buy the things that you will need later in the season and save money. Such low and attractive prices cannot last long as commodities in most every line are on the upward trend.

Each individual merchant welcomes you to his store during these three big bargain days, and in this issue of the paper are quoting many of their attractive values, with many more to be found in the stores that space will not permit being quoted.

Read the advertisements over carefully, tell your family and friends about this three-day bargain event, and don't let anything keep you away from our stores during this time.

Arthur, 15, was lying in the eping porch. He was dead from bullet wound in the head. A pistol with four cartridges fired, lay near by. The sleeping porch was smeared with blood and there was some evidence of a struggle. A sheathed handaxe, stained with blood, was found. The sheath had been cut, as if from a blow.

"One bullet struck the younger boy in the right side," Justice Ramsay said. "Another struck him in the neck and cut his jugular vein. The gun apparently had been turned in the scuffle and the third shot went between the younger boy's fingers and struck the other in the head."

Texas Rangers bade a thorough investigation but were noncommittal on their findings. Captain Frank Hamar said he had found "a little" about it.

SAN MARCOS, Sept. 9.—(AP)—Texas rangers today investigated the slaying of two young sons of a millionaire rachman, found fatally shot yesterday at a little stone house near their parents' $300,000 home in the hills north of San Marcos.

Arthur Morton, 15, was found dead inside the stone building, which he and his brother, Harry, 14, used as sleeping quarters. A revolver with four exploded shells in the cylinder lay near. There were spots of blood on the walls of the sleeping porch and on a bed and a cot. The boy had been shot through the head.

There was a group of thre. bullet holes in the screen wire of the sleeping porch.

Harry Morton was found lying mortally wounded about 25 yards from the house. He was brought to a hospital here but died a few minutes after arriving. He had been shot three times.

A bloodstained handaxe was found inside the building. Both boys were in their nightclothes.

Justice of the Peace A. M. Ramsey returned a verdict of accidental death. He said later he belived the boys were shot in a struggle for the revolver.

Captain Frank Hamer and George M. Allen of the Texas rangers came here from Austin to investigate.

The boys' parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hunter Morton of San Antonio. The father formerly was a newspaper man. Their mother was Miss Zilla Naynor, debutante a few years ago in San Antonio. In recent years Morton has managed the extensive Naylor interests in San Antonio and several ranches in Texas. It had been planned for the boys to return to San Antonio soon to resume their studies in a high school tehere.

LEAGUE NATIONS RECOMMENDS JAPS STAY MANCHURIA

TOKYO, Sept. 9.—(AP)—Continuation of the Japanese influence in Manchuria, in an advisory capacity, has been recommended by the League of Nations inquiry commission in its report to the League, official sources here said today.

The information, they said, came from Japanese representatives at Peiping, where the report was signed last week.

These advices, which contained a purported summary of the commission's findings, said, however, the report recommended an arrangement recognzing China's sovereignty in Manchuria but establishing the autonomy of the territory under Japanese advisors.

This, it said, should be worked out by negotiations between China and Japan, with representatives of Manchuria and observers representing the League.

The report of the commission was sent to Geneva last week without being published. Arrangements were made, Lord Lytton, the chairman said at the time, for publication simultaenously at Geneva, Nanking and Tokyo later this month.

The foreign office spokesman here said today, however, that Japan's recognition of the government of Manchukou next week would be her answer to any proposals to restore Chinese sovereignty in Manchuria.

TIGHT SAFETY BELT SAVES PASSENGER AS PLANE HITS PEAK; THREE BURN TO DEATH

EL PASO, Sept. 9.—(AP)—Tightening his safety belt saved George A. Davidson's life yesterday while his three companions on an airplane trip were burned to death when the ship struck the side of a mountain.

Pilot W. J. (Bryant) Robbins of the American Airways, his co-pilot, Francis W. Briggs, and Victor Ellman of St. Louis were killed. Ther plane, wrecked yesterday morning, was found early today by the two other American Airways pilots, Ira McConaughey and Victor Miller.

Davidson, who lives in Richmond, Cal., was only slightly injured. The searchers found him about two miles from the plane. He had stopped to build a fire because he could not find his way well in the darkness and needed warmth against the chill air of the Guadalupe mountains where the ship crashed. The mountains are about 75 miles east of El Paso.

He said he was anxious yesterday as Robbins tried to pilot the plane over the Guadalupe chain in foggy weather. As a precaution, he tightened his safety belt. When the plane hit the mountainside, the other three were thrown forward and probably stunned. Davidson's belt kept him in his seat and left him able to leap from the plane an instant before it took fire. Almost in a moment, the other men were burned to death before his eyes.

Unable to help them, he remained near the plane a while and then started to try to make his way out of the mountains. The plane struck only about 150 feet below the crest of one mountain. If it had been flying at a slightly greater altitude, it might have gone on to Dallas safely. At the time of the crash it was only an hour out of El Paso.

After the plane had been some hours overdue, search for it was begun. When Montgomery and Miller finally sighted the wreckage, they had to fly 12 miles further before finding a place to the rough mountain trails and land. They made their way back toward the wreckage on foot over found Davidson en route.

Davidson was burned about his hands and face. He decided to spend the remainder of the night at a ranch house. The pilots returned to El Paso. Then, with a doctor and a nurse, they started back to the wreck early today.

Robbins was a cousin of Reg L. Robbins, who won fame in 1929 as an enduurance flier. Reg Robbins taught his cousin to fly several years ago and the two barnstormed together. Bryant Robbins had been a pilot for American Airways since its inception as the Texas Air Transport. He and Mrs. Robbins lived with her mother, Mrs. Hanry Vaughn, at Everman. There is a son, Byron, ten years old.

Briggs lived in Dallas.

TREASURY REMAINS SILENT ON REPORT GERMANY NOT PAY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—(AP)—Silence met recurring reports at the treasury today that Germany had formally notified this government she would be unable to meet the September 30 payments on the cost of the army of occupation and mixed claims.

Secretary Mills declined to discuss the reports before attending the cabinet meeting at the White House. He promised, however, to talk about it later in the day. A statement which he had planned to issue last night was postponed.

Germany is due to pay 35,050,000 reichmarks on September 30 of which 20,400,000 are for settlement of mixed claims and 12,650,000 for the installment on the army of occupation.

Postponement would be automatic upon notification.

The mark is approximately 24 cents.

Secretary Stimson today declined to comment and when asked if the government had received any notification from Germany that she would not be able to meet the payments, replied:

"The whole matter is being handled by the treasury department."

Chorus Girls Averted Panic Theatre Fire

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—(AP)—The nonchalant attitude of the chorus girls, who continued to play their part on the stage even as the boards under their feet grew hot and smoke poured upward, was credited today with having averted a panic when fire broke out in the Garrick theater.

The patrons, warned by the manager that a serious fire had broken out in the basement, moved calmly through the exists last night as smoke filled the theater which is in the heart of Chicago's Rialto.

Meanwhile, the show went on. The musicians remained at their post and the chorines went on with their dances. The prima donna of the chorus, Lottie Kroll, was singing her number "Dancing in the Dark," as firemen arrived.

Not until the last patron had departed did the chorus girls and musicians leave.

The fire, thought to have resulted from defective wiring, caused damage estimated at $15,000.

NEW YORK DOCTOR ANNOUNCES DIRECT LUNG TREATMENTS

BELIEVED TO EFFECTIVELY AID IN RELIEVING LUNG AND BRONCHIAL TROUBLES

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—(AP)— A method of treating chronic lung and bronchial infections by the direct application of medicinal solutionns in the interior of the lungs was described here today by Dr. M. Joseph Mandelbaum, New York specialist.

Addressing the eye, ear, nose and throat section of the American Congress of Physical Therapy on "A New Method of Bronco-Clycis," Dr. Mandelbaum told how he had administered such treatments by the use of small, specially devised rubber tubes.

Although he made no claim of obtaining so-called "cures" Dr. Mandelbaum declared the treatment "has relieved distressing coughs and other symptoms" both in tubercular and non-tubercular cases.

"It has been found effective in promoting better headth and has proven practically inocuous in thousands of instances in which this method has been used on human subjects," he said.

Describing the actual treatment, Dr. Mandelbaum said after the infection has been located by X-ray the paitent is given local anesthesia and the tubes inserted through the mouth. When the cubes reach the affected area an antiseptic solution then is forced in at the rate of 40 to 50 drops a minute. After the antiseptic has penetrated the affected parts the accumulated toxic products then are flushed out, he said.

There were attacks at other points also, the announcement said.

This morning a Bolivian radio dispatch intercepted here said Bolivian troops had captured Fort Rojas Silva.

rguson had told the her application for a she feared members of utive committee and the on, influenced by charges violations and irregularities the runoff primary be- her and Governor R. S. ng, might not comply with she said was the law and ify as the nominee the candidate receiving the most votes.

She contended that the function f the committee and the convention as fixed by the electicn law precluded their entertaining any contest of any nature in connection with the primary. She said those bodies simply were directed to perform a perfunctory service by adding the vot: ; received and certifying as the nominee the person obtaining the larger number.

Answering her petition, members of the committee advised the court that they did not intend to do other than certify the candidate receiving the most votes.

Ocie Speer of Austin, of counsel for Mrs. Ferguson immediately filed a motion for rehearing with the court.

Governor Sterling refused to comment upon the court decision. Mrs. Ferguson and her husband, James E. Ferguson, both former bock to attend the state democratic convention.

Semi-official returns of the closely contested gubernatorial primary showed Mrs. Ferguson had received almost 4,000 more votes than Gov. Sterling.

Governor Sterling refused to concede Mrs. Ferguson's nomination, however. In a statement he declared he had received the most "legal votes cast," and asserted he would be "nominated and elected governor."

He charged there were many irregularities and law violations in connection with the primary. He was gathering evidence with a view to contesting certification of Mrs. Fergusan's name for a place on the general election ballot as the democratic nominee.

The state executive committee will meet at Lubbock Monday to canvass the officials returns and certify the nominee to the state party convention which will meet Tuesday at the same place.

Mrs. Ferguson, in her application for a mandamus, contended the law provided for a contest of the result to be lodged in a district court after the convention had formally declared the nominee.

No Convention As Yet.

The court held that "the state democratic convention thus far has no existence, has not been served, has not appeared, and is plainly not a party to this proceeding."

"Its president and secretary have not been elected, and the names of its delegates are not shown in the petition," the opinion said. "None of these are parties in this proceeding, and none appeared at the argument."

Associated Justice William Pierson, who was a candidate for re-election in the recent primary, did not sit with the court in considering the Ferguson application.

The court said it was obvious from statutes quoted by it "that the duties of the state execuive committee are those of —vassing board."

Powers of Committee.

"It is well settled by the authorities that, aside from their quasi judicial power to determine the genuineness of election returns, the functions and duties of the canvassing board are ministerial," the court opinion stated. "They derive their powers from the constitution or statutes, and have no other powers, functions or duties than those named."

The court quoted from Corpus Juris, as follows:

"It is settled beyond controversy that canvassers cannot go behind the returns. The returns provided for by law are the sole and exclusive evidence from which a canvassing board or official can ascertain and declare the result. The canvassers are not authorized to examine or consider papers or documents which are transmitted to them with the returns, or as returns, but which under the statutes do no constitute part of the returns. Neither are they at liberty to receive and consider extrinsic evidence, unless the official returns are destroyed before thy are canvassed, in which case secondary evidence of their contents may be received."

No Recount Power

The court said the authorities hold, "in the absence of a statute conferring I, a board of canvassers has neither expressed nor implied power to recount the ballots."

The court pointed out that "the respondents have not refused, or indicated any purpose to refuse or fail, to follow the statute governing them in the canvass of the primary election returns, and to do the very thing which the relator asks that they be required to do by mandamus."

"On the contrary, the answer off the committee shows a bona fide purpose and intention to comply with the statute," the opinion stated.

Willing to Perform

"The rule is an elementary one that a writ of mandamus will not lie to compel the performance of an act which the respondent shows a willingness to perform without coercion."

Another part of the opinion said: "Fear is expressed in the petition that the state democratic executive committee might be intimidated by extrensic forces, or that their deliberations might be interfered with through an injunction issued by some district judge. We do not think the allegations made sufficient to warrant the issuance of the writ of mandamus against the committee. The committee in its answer expressly declares that in canvassing the returns 'it shall act as prescribed by law, impartially, conscientiously and legally, uninfluenced by any threats, attempts to intimidate, or by any threatened court actions made by the partisans of either of the candidates for nomination of the democratic party for governor, or by any one else'."

STEAMER BLOWN TO BITS BY EXPLOSION; 200 WORKERS ABOARD

ALL ON BOARD NEW YORK FERRYBOAT ARE KILLED, MISSING OR INJURED

NEW YORK, Sept. 9—(AP)—An old wooden steamboat exploded in the East River near Hell Gate today and 165 iron workers on their way to build prison cells on Ricker's Island were hurled into the air, many dead and virtually all the rest injured.

Twenty-four bodies were brought during the morning to the ferry house where 28 years ago the dead of the Slocum disaster, in which more than 1,000 died, were laid. The contracting company which employed the men reported the number of known dead at the ferry house and in the hospitals was 37.

Scores were missing and it was feared the final death list might well reach 100. Among those unreported but consedered surely dead by his associates was Harry Hires of Mattewan, the boat's engineer who was in the engine room when the boiler explod[illegible] and the craft was torn apart.

The boat that blew up was the "Observation," a 92-footer built 44 years ago and always owned by the Forsythe Transportation company. Alexander Forsythe, the captain, was critically injured in the explosion and his father, Geo. Forsythe, suffered serious injuries.

Until recent years the "Observation" was always an excursion boat and until its end it returned to this type of service every week-end, filling in the week as a labor ferry. Caught in a strong tide last winter it turned over and sank but it was raised and reconditioned and in April passed its annual government examination.

Investigations were begun today by various agencies, including the police, the district attorney's office, and the steamboat inspection service of the department of commerce.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—(AP)—A ferry carrying some 200 iron workers from the Bronx to their jobs on the new Rikers Island penitentiary in the East River was blown to bits by a boiler explosion today, killing dozens and injuring many more.

Within an hour 25 bodies had been recovered and an hour later the number had risen to 37. Half a hundred were still unaccounted for and practically all the rest were injured.

The ferry, the 92-foot wooden steamer "Observation," had already made one trip to the Island from the 135th Street dock and had just started with its second load when the explosion occurred.

The Observation, which was built in 1888, was about 25 feet from the pier when people ashore were stunned by a terrific roar. The ferry disappeared in a dense cloud of smoke from which catapulted bodies and fragments of wood and iron.

When the smoke cleared there was nothing left of the boat but debris floating on the oily water.

Police, coast guard and commercial boats flocked to the scene and joined in saving the injured and transporting the dead to shore.

Police Commissioner Edward P. Mulrooney and Bronx District Attorney Charles McLaughlin were early on the scene and directed the rescue work.

One workman, Ted Maureau, was saved by tardiness. He arrived at the dock just a minute too late to make the ferry and was standing watching it when it exploded. He helped in the rescue of his fellow workers.

Captain Joseph Rogers of the municipal ferry Greenwich Village gave a graphic account of the explosion.

"I heard a blast and saw the boat blown to smithereens," he said. "When the clouds of smoke and steam had cleared away we could see the passengers struggling in the water over a large area. Just two blocks from the pier where the Observation had backed out into the water.

We lowered our lifeboats and cruised about among the wreckage. We picked up four bodies and ten injured persons. Other people were putting out in small boats and they also picked up bodies and the injured.

Commissioner Mulrooney commented that it was at this same ferry dock that in 1904 he arrested the captain of the excursion Steam General Slocum, which sank in Hell Gate with a loss of 1,021 lives.

All witnesses of the explosion of the Observation were taken to nearby police stations for questioning. Among them was Alexander Forsythe, captain and co-owner of the ferry.

"The boilers exploded," he repeated over and over and that was the only explanation he had to offer.

When the explosion occurred, the body of one workman was tossed 50 feet into the air and landed on the roof of a building near the waterfront.

Peter Collins, a life guard at a summer camp, was near the pier and saw the explosion. He called workers from a nearby powerhouse and returned to the waterfront to give aid.

One diver was asked for from the city department of docks and two more were requested from the Brooklyn navy yard. They were immediately dispatched.

More than three hours after the explosion police said investigation indicated there were 165 men on the Observation when the boilers exploded. The number of dead was still listed at 37 at that time.

The Alexander Avenue station reported to police headquarters that Alexander Forsythe, captain and co-owner of the Observation, who was under detention in Lincoln hospital, had died of his injuries.

After surveying the situation at the scene District Attorney McLaughlin ordered all witnesses to his office, which he said would be headquarters for the inquiry.

REPUBLICANS TURN FACES MORE DEFINITELY TOWARD EAST IN COMING CAMPAIGN

By BYRON PRICE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9—Battle lines for the presidential campaign still are far from complete, but the present week has produced signs that the Republicans are turning their faces a little more definitely toward the East, while the Democrats incline a little more surely toward the West.

Of course, neither side has at all abandoned hope or endeavor in either East or West, but the present phases of the struggle, considered alone, show three interesting developments:

Former President Coolidge, rallying support for the Republicans, puts special emphasis on his appeal to his own industrial East.

The Democratic troubles in New York City have intensified Republican effort to capture the Empire State.

Governor Roosevelt's plans for his first long speaking trip, beginning Monday. forecast a Western swing unequalled by any Democratic nominee since William Jennings Bryan.

For the moment, the most talked of of these developments probably is the Coolidge appeal, though it was by no means a surprise. In a copyrighted article in the Saturday Evening Post, Mr. Coolidge has gone the whole way of endorsing Mr. Hoover's acts collectively and in detail, of praising Vice President Curtis, and of upholding the Republican prohibition plank.

Mr. Coolidges pronouncement—so much hoped for by Hoover leaders because of the former president's traditional popularity—is reckoned by the politicians as the first high trump to be played since the conventions. There seems good reason for believing that Al Smith is considering the production of a Democratic trump by a statement more directly defining his support of his party ticket.

Governor Roosevelt's workers are not saying a great deal about New England just now, looking first to the South and West, plus New York and New Jersey, which they still insist they are sure to carry. That the governor himself has not abandoned hope in the northeast is attested by his swing this week into always-Republican Vermont.

Mexia Taking to Horseback Riding

MEXIA, Sept. 10—(Spl.)—So great is the interest in horseback riding here, Jesse E. Page has abandoned his garage business to build a riding club, with a barn for boarding saddle horses, a bridle path, riding ring and other conveniences. Horseback riding as a sport is rapidly growing in interest, rivaling the country club's course.

LEGISLATURE HAS FINALLY REFUSED ELECTION PROBE

AUSTIN, Sept. 10.—(AP)—The Texas legislature was free today of controversial proposals to investigate the democratic gubernatorial primary election to determine the truth or falsity of charges of illegality and fraud.

The house or representatives yesterday disposed of the last of the troublesome resolutions to inquire into charges made by partisans of both Governor R. S. Sterling and Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, contenders for the nomination, that illegal votes had been cast and that there had been misuse of state agencies and facilities during the campaign.

A resolution by Representative J. C. Duvall of Fort Worth to authorize investigation of the election by a nine-member committee to be appointed by Speaker Fred Minor was tabled after a day of acrimonious debate. The action had the effect of killing the resolution.

The vote was 62 to 52. Defeat of the resolution was attributed partially to a sentiment tha an investigation such as that proposed both in the house and senate had no place in the legislature.

Sponsors of the senate investigation resolution had announced Thursday they would drop the proposal for a senate investigation.

Debate over the resolutions to investigate the election has consumed a considerable ortion of the time of the special session of the legislature, convened August 3 0to enact relief measures, the senate having spent several days arguing the question.

The house resolution as offered by Duvall was aimed primarily at investigating charges that state employes and facilities had been used illegally in the campaign. The resolution also was directed that inquiry be made to determine if any department had required its employes to pledge support of any candidate and if temporary employes had been placed on the payrolls to influence voting in the election.

An amendment had been offered by Representative Alfred Petsch of Fredericksburg, a supporter of Governor Sterling, to require the committee to first investigate the charges that illegal votes had been cast. The governor had charged in post campaign statements that thousands of illegal votes had ben cast.

The house adopted a resolution by Representative P. L. Anderson of San Antonio calling on members of the legislature to remain in session next week and not to break a quorum by attending the democratic state convention which will open Tuesday at Lubbock. Many members of the legislature had planned to attend. The resolution requested members who attended the convention not to draw their per diem for the days they were absent.

The resolution was concurrent and Anderson said he hoped to get it adopted in the senate quickly. It was adopted in the house, 95 to 9.

Bond Relief Bill.

The senate decided to begin consideration of the house highway bond assumption bill this afternoon notwithstanding the objections of several members, who insisted that a bill of such importance should be printed.

The bill had been amended considerably in committee and was not voted out by the committee until late yesterday.

The current tense political situation entered into the discussion as Senator George Purl of Dallas charged that "certain forces are at work in this state, Jim Ferguson the leader, which say that we can't relieve these counties of their indebtedness on state highways."

"I say we're going to relieve these counties," Senator Purl shouted.

The Dallas senator was supporting a motion to start consideration of the bill immediately.

Believes In Texas

"I haven't seen Jim Ferguson in three weeks," replied Senator Pink Parrish of Lubbock, who led the fight to have the bill printed, "I want to say that I supported Dan Moody and that I voted for Mr. Sterling. However, I want to say further that I believe that Jim Ferguson wants a bill to help the people of Texas."

Senator Parrish charged that the appointive highway commission had prepared a bill which it wanted passed, and that he wanted time to study the proposal and suggest any changes that he thought desirable.

The motion to suspend the rules requiring committee reports to lie on the table 24 hours was accepted 18 to 7, just before the noon recess.

Bill Is Engrossed.

The house engrossed a senate bil lto allow the Tarrant county water control and improvement district to remove obstacles in the way of obtaining a loan from the reconstruction finance corporation. The bill would allow the state to appeal from condemnation awards without posting double the amount of the award and would allow the district to deposit only the amount of the condemnation award in its own depository.

The house substituted its own bill for the senate proposal before passing it to third reading.

Another senate bill to allow the Tararnt county district to pledge its securities to obtain loans from the reconstruction finance corporation or other financing corporations was engrossed after an amendment had been adopted limiting the amount of interest that might be paid to six per cent.

Interest Rate High.

The bill had provided for a maximum interest rate of eight per cent, Representative Walter Beck of Fort Worth stating this was necessary if the district wished to negotiate for short term loans. The amendment to reduce the interest rate was offered by Representative C. E. Farmer of Fort Worth.

A senate bill to authorize administrative changes in the Maverick county water control and improvement district so that it could create a self liquidating fund and obtain a loan from the reconstruction finance corporation, was engrossed.

House bills to authorize water control and improvement districts to refund outstanding bonded indebtedness without an election and to pledge securities to obtain loans from the reconstruction finance corporation were engrossed.

The house engrossed a bill to validate road bonds voted by counties where the bonds have not been issued or sold.

Truck Law Bill.

The house began consideration of a bill to amend the truck laws so farmers and cattle raisers operating their own trucks would not be required to obtain a chauffeur's license. An amendment was offered by Representative Beck to exempt all truck operators from the chauffeur's license requirement.

Beck's amendment ran into considerable opposition, the form in which it was offered being considered by certain members as a move to open up the whole subject of truck legislation, Beck fought the truck bills in the regular session of the 42nd legislature.

The capital is filled with people who do not want any amendments made in the truck laws, Beck charged, urging immediate action on his amendment. A motion that consideration of the amendment be postponed until Monday morning was pending when the house recessed.

Humble Reduces Oil Purchases East Texas Area

HOUSTON, Sept. 10.—(AP)—The Humble Oil and Refining company today announced it would cut by fifty per cent its purchases of crude oil in the East Texas, North Texas and Panhandle fields, effective Monday, September 12 at 7 a. m.

At the same time, the Humble Pipe Line company announced it would accept for transportation or storage at established tariffs that part of the allowable production, from leases to which the company has pipe line connections, not purchased currently by the Humble Oil and Refining company.

The effect of the action will be that the shipper must provide his own market unless he elects to pay storage.

The announcement, by R. L. Blaffer, Humble Oil and Refining company vice-president, merely said the Humble would purchase no more than fifty per cent of the production allowed by the Texas railroad commission from wells on leases where Humble has authorized pipe line connections.

The reduction in purchase will apply to Gregg, Rusk, Smith and Upshur counties in East Texas; Carson, Hutchinson, Gray, Wheeler, Jones and Fisher counties in the Panhandle, and Wilbarger, Wichita, Archer, Throckmorton, Young, Shackleford, Haskell, Callahan and Coleman counties in North Texas.

W. S. Farish, president of Humble, said the reduction in purchases was made necessary by the fact the company had been "buying more oil than we need or can use."

BILL REMITTING DELINQUENT TAX PENALTIES PASSED

MEASURE ONLY NEEDS GOVERNOR'S SIGNATURE TO BECOME OPERATIVE

AUSTIN, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Relief to the Texas delinquent taxpayer was near realization today, with a bill remitting penalties and interest needing only Governor Sterling's signature to become immediately effective as a law.

The bill, a compromise between the house and senate, was adopted yesterday by a vote sufficient to make the measure immediately effective. The vote in the senate was unanimous and that in the house was 106 to 8. Representative C. E. Farmer of Fort Worth previously had moved that the free conference bill be rejected and another conference be requested but his motion was defeated 61 to 52.

Under the bill, penalties and interest would be charged off on all delinquent state, county and school regardless of how long the taxes had been delinquent. Cities may take advantage of the plan on municipal taxes if they so desire.

Passage of the delinquent tax remission bill was one of the three main purposes for which the legislature was reconvened Aug. 30. Progress had been made on the proposals to provide for state assumption of county highway indebtedness and aid to home owners through the federal home loan banks but details of these bills had not yet been worked out.

The house yesterday changed its adjournment resolution to provide for ending the session next Saturday instead of today.

Indications were that the legislature would experience difficulty in maintaining a quorum during he state Democratic convention at Lubbock the first part of next week. Senator Archie Parr of Benavides gave notice he would move that the senate recess until after the convention.

The senate was ready to act on the house bill providing for allocation of one-fourth of the state gasoline tax to assume the counties' indebtedness on state highways. The bill was reported favorably late yesterday by the senate committee on highways and motor traffic. It had been amended considerably and indications were that the final draft of the bill would be prepared in free conference.

The senate moved yesterday to curb theatre bombings. A bill to make the throwing of bombs a elony, punishable by imprisonment of five to 25 years, was passed unanimously. The bill was introduced by Senator W. A. Williamson of San Antonio.

Another bill passed by the senate would require precinct election returns to be delivered to their proper concentration point iwthin 48 hours after the polls closed. The bill was offered by Senator John W. Hornsby of Austin, who made the penalties severe in order that the proposed law might be enforced.

First Increase In 17 Months In Steel Orders

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Uifilled orders of the United States Steel Corporation increased 3,293 tons in August to a total of 1,369,595 tons Aug. 31. It was the first gain in seventeen months.

There was wide difference of opinion, prior to appearace of the figures, as to whether a gain or loss would be shown, but it was thopght in many quarters that the corporation had booked sufficient orders late in August to bring some expansion in the backlog. Operations were at a low level all last month.

July tonnage was off 68,466 tons. Summer months are normally dull.

The last increase in backlog occurred in March, 1931. The total of August 31, 1931, was 3,169,457 tons.

SUPPORT OF CANDIDATES FOR CONGRESS FRIENDLY TO PROHIBITION CAUSE URGED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(AP)—The support of congressional candidates friendly to prohibition was today's advice to voters from two outstanding prohibition organizations—the executive committee of the Anti-Saloon League and the National Prohibition Board of Strategy.

The League's committee, in a formal statement focusing campaign efforts on congressional races, said that organization could not support the position of the two major presidential candidates. It added that "no national political party convention can bind senators and congressmen" who "are responsible only to their constituents for the manner in which they meet their official obligations."

The board of strategy last night discussed at some length a proposal by Canon William S. Chase that drys support a third party movement and decided to center campaign efforts on senatorial and congressional races.

Dr. Ernest G. Cherrington, prominent board member, said the third party resolution had not received a second and that while not formally voted on, he felt the matter was closed so far as the board was concerned.

"The place to support the Eighteenth amendment is in congress," Cherrington said, "and this board and probably all other dry organizations will center its support on candidates for congress who are friends of prohibition."

The League statement told "the voters of the nation to study with great care the political party platforms, the public declarations and the known records of the presidential candidates and to vote as in their best judgment will best conserve and maintain the present prohibition policy unchanged."

ELEVEN KILLED ON ABACO ISLAND WHEN TIDAL WAVE STRUCK

NASSAU, Bahamas, Sept. 10—(AP)—The relief ship Lady Cordeaux, bearing food and medical supplies to storm sufferers in the Abaco group of the Bahamas, reached Green Turtle Bay today and found the town on the island devastated.

Leaders of the relief expedition reported by wireless that so fas as they could learn the total killed in the storm and tidal wave last Monday was seven. Previous reports were that 11 persons died.

According to their wireless report all of the storm dead were mariners. Numerous persons were injured.

The storm denuded the island of vegetation and destroyed 60 homes. Only 12 houses were left standing.

The relief party went to work immediately, assisting the injured, caring for the dead and distributing food and clothing among the living.

NASSAU, Bahamas, Sept. 10.—(AP)—A relief expedition was on its way today to Abaco Island of the Bahamas group where, it was learned yesterday, 11 persons were killed and many injured in a storm and tidal wave Monday.

The expedition, headed by Dr. H. A. Quackenbush and including several Abaco members of the Bahaman legislature, started last night for the island.

The discovery of the disastrous effect of the storm was made yesterday by government officials who visited the island in an airplane. There was great need for food, water and supplies, they said.

Six settlements were struck and most of the buildings wrecked. In one settlement the only remaining shelter was a house the roof of which was blown off.

No news had been received from the island all week.

Mother Kills Sons Suffering With Hay Fever

MILWAUKEE, Cept. 10.—(AP)—Because her two small sons suffered from hay fever, Mrs. Edwin A. Jones, 40, shot them to death and then killed herself at her home in suburban Whitefish Bay early today.

The children were Edwin, Jr., 10, and James, 8.

A note addressed to "Daddy" said:

"The treatment they have had is having less effect all the time and there doesn't seem to be anything else worth trying. You know how I wanted them and now that I know there is nothing but suffering and heartaches ahaed for them, this is the only way I can square it."

The bodies were found by Mrs. Jones' husband, an engineer, who is also a hay fever sufferer. All three had been shot in the head with a .45 calibre army service revolver.

TOM HUNTER OFFERS SOME SUGGESTIONS STATE CONVENTION

SAYS FUNDAMENTALS, NOT PREJUDICES, SHOULD BE OBJECTIVE AT LUBBOCK

WICHITA FALLS, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Tom Hunter, Wichita Falls attorney and oil man, who ran third in the Texas gubernatorial race in the first primary, issued the following statement today regarding the stand he will take at the state Democratic convention in Lubbock:

"At Lubbock I will concern myself only in a constructive program for the relief of the plain people. Fundamentals, not prejudices, should be our objective. Our passions should not control us in times of distress, contentments of our people being of so much greater importance than our whims. We must be aware that the organized predatory interests have in the past spent more than a million dollars a month through one advertising agency, schooling the 99 per cent that own less than 40 per cent of our wealth into a designed line of thought that they might make our government a business for profit while we, divided upon prejudices, called it politics. We must cease to finance our own undoing.

"May I plead for the united brain effort of the convention for a full constructive program for the next two years. I suggest the following as a part of that thought:

"This Democratic convention realizes that real estate, our basic wealth, can on longer carry the tax burdens put upon it.

"That excessive taxation has destroyed both the loan and sale value of our real property.

"That our social progress depends largely upon home ownership and to foster home ownership at least two-thirds of the present tax burdens must be removed from our farm and city homes; in fact, from all real estate.

"That some two-thirds of our state's wealth escapes or pays but little tax.

Tax System Antiquidated.

"That our ox-cart tax system is antiquated and must be supplanted by a blended system that will require all who live in Texas or who do business in Texas to pay in proportion to their ability to pay.

"Taxes must not only be re-allocated but a retrenchment in expenses must be had for tax reduction. Texas must get her expense account within her means.

"That the state and ad valorem tax must be abolished. The blended system adopted must be designed to reach all industries proportionately, all values tangible or intangible.

"That our tax system must treat Texas as one unit for state tax purposes and not 254 units. The beneficiaries of our state governmental conveniences and protection must pay proportionately for that which they receive.

Mergers and Monopolies.

"Combines of wealth that never die must be required to pay a graduated tax that individuals of only some 30 years business life may have equal opportunity with them. Mergers should not be encouraged. Monopolies must be destroyed.

"Earnings of utility comanies must be restricted to a fair return on their present replacement values. Their watered stock claims must be disproved. They must treat the plain people as fairly.

"Methods for raising revenue for city and county governments other than the ad valorem tax must be provided.

"It must be a penal offense for one holding state office of emolument to take pay or compensation from a corporation.

"A graduated tax must be placed upon chain stores fixed on the number of stores and upon gross sales. Care must be used that holding companies of the East can not evade this tax. Independent business must be preserved that our people be not reduced to the ranks of masters and servants.

"Many of our commissions, bureaus and departments of government must be abolished. Some may be consolidated. Duplications in office shall be eliminated. Our government family should be a working body and not a political machine.'

MORE MILLIONS WILL BE SPENT ON PUBLIC BUILDING PLAN TO AID UNEMPLOYED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(AP)—More millions were added today to huge federal outlays on public construction which President Hoover says have more than doubled in recent years as an employment aid.

"Slightly less than $200,000,000" was the chief executive's estimate of the sum to be expended immediately under the relief act.

He said this amount would bring this fiscal year's total construction outlay to over $750,000,000, which in turn, would bring aggregate construction expenditures since the depression began to about $2,300,000,000.

Mr. Hoover announced the government's plan to speed construction with relief act funds in a formal statement late yesterday accompanied by a letter from Secretary Mills saying the money would be available at once. The President said:

"In order further to aid employment I have instructed the various departments to undertake the speeding up of the federal construction program by the amount of slightly less than $200,000,000 being the contingent appropriation in the 1932 relief and construction act.

"The secretary of the treasury has notified me that the necessary funds can be now made available. By the addition of the amounts which can be applied from this fund, the total federal construction work during the present fiscal year of all kinds will exceed $750,000,000.

"This speeding up from this additional fund will be largely in the river and harbor, flood control and public projects wrich were authorized from two to five years ago.

"The expenditure on all classes of construction since the depression began and up to next July will total about $2,300,000. This sum is more than double the normal pace and the enlarged work has, of course, been undertaken solely in aid to employment.

"The actual projects which will be speeded up under this additional sum will be announced by the various depadtments."

The first of these announcements, alloting the relief act's $100,000,000 public building appropiration is due at the treasury Monday. Comptroller General McCarl has ruled the 10 per cent economy slash must be made in this sum but it still is undecided whether this cuts the entire figure or the amounts spent on individual projects.

Other departments are expected to make an early apportionment of their funds.

FREESTONE COUNTY TAXPAYERS SEEK TO VOTE OFF ROAD TAX

FAIRFIELD, Sept. 10.—(AP)—At the regular meeting of the Fairfield Business and Civic club Tuesday evening, H. L. Williford, C. N. Williford, W. A. Parker, F. B. Peyton, L. J. Davis, James Radford, and T. S. Watson and others discussed tax matters and a committee was appointed to circulate a petition to ask the commissioners' court to order an election in this precinct to vote on abolishing the 15c road tax voted several years ago, before the county received the large tax it is now receiving from the auto tax.

A committee was also appointed to circulate a petition asking the court to immediately grant a reduction of 25 per cent in tax valuations in the county.

E. F. Glazener was appointed program chairman for the next meeting. James Radford and R. B. Kirgan were appointed an attendance committee.

Senator Jake Loy of Sherman introduced a bill to broaden the scope of the natural gas rate inquiry being conducted under supervision of the railroad commission. The bill would permit the investigators to assist home rule cities in determning the valuatons of gas company properties within those cities. Under the present law home rule cities must make the surveys without and outside help.

Another provision of the bill would require gas companies to obtain the consent of the railroad commission before raising rates in towns of less than 500 population. A hearing on the proposal will be held tomorrow afternoon.

The senate passed a bill by Senator Benjamin F. Berkley of Alpine to permit the formation of corporations to provide housing for persons of low income.

Hope to Complete Program This Week

AUSTIN, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Leaders in the Texas legislature, in special session since August 30 to enact relief measures, today hoped to have the legislative program completed by the end of this week.

Tomorrow will mark the opening of the third week of the special session. So far, final action had been taken on only one of the three major relief proposals submitted by Governor R. S. Sterling. The legislature had passed and the governor had signed a bill to remit the penalties and interest on delinquent taxes if paid before December 31, 1932. It became effective immediately.

Part action had been taken on the other two relief proposals, one to provide for state assumption of interest and sinking fund charges on county and district bonds issued to aid state highway construction and the other to revise the banking and insurance laws to allow building and loan associations and insurance companies to invest in securities of the federal home loan bank.

The senate had passed a house bill to authorize use of gasoline tax receipts to pay charges against county and district highway bonds. The house bill had been so amended that it was doubtful if the lower branch would accede to the views of the senate and would ask for appointment of a free conberence committee.

The most controversial amendment voted by the senate was one whereby the state would assume payment of bonds that had been issued to procure right of way. The house had refused to include a similar provision when the bill was before that body.

The third major proposal, revision of banking and insurance laws, had been passed by the senate and approved by a house committee. It was likely the bill would be approved by the house without such debate.

While leaders believed the legislators would adjourn on or before next Saturday, there were others who felt the session would extend the constitutional limit of 30 days. Several bills of an emergency nature, but of minor importance, were pending in both houses but were not expected to materially delay final adjournment.

It was doubtful if both houses would be able to maintain a quorum during sessions of the democratic state convention at Lubbock, starting Tuesday, many members having expressed the intention of attending the session.

College Attendance Expected Be Large Coming Sessions

CANYON, Sept. 12.—(AP)—J. A. Hill, president of the Texas State Teachers' Assoication, believes there will be a large attendance at all colleges this fall.

Dr. Hill states that the slightly better outlook shows by price advances is one reason for his bedief; the fact that boys and girls must be in school or be idle in another reason why he believes every sacrifice will be made to enable them to attend college.

In the Panhandle section of Texas hundreds of homes have been canning and drying suupplies during the summer in order to enable their childre to do lighthousekeeping, bring most of their food from home, and so go to school on very little money.

"Many students," said President Hill, "will go to college during the long session of 1932-33 on a money outlay of not more than $100. That sounds hard but it can be done and Texas youth will do it."

At Palace Theatre In Person Wednesday

Lum and Abner, radios finest portrayers of Southern rural characters, noted for their broadcasts over the NBC networks, will begin a series of personal appearances throughout the Southwest next Wednesday, September 14, at the Palace Theatre in Corsicana.

Lum and Abner are far from strangers in this section, as they were sent to Dallas and Fort Worth last Fall by the Quaker Oats company and broadcast from WFAA and WBAP. After returning to Chicago, the radio audience in this oitsecn continued to hear them from Chicago through WBAP.

Chester H. Lauck and Norris Goff who portray the various characters in the daily Lum and Abner skits over the radio, are both young and still in their twenties. This fact is not generally known by their radio listeners who naturally assume that they are near the age of the old fellows they so perfectly portray. They have never allowed anyone to watch them in the studios while they are broadcasting and their listeners have never known which of them take the role of the different characters. In their personal appearances they will show from the stage, through a microphone, how the various voice changes are made and will appear in the characters of Lum and Abner and will also be seen as they are in every day life.

Other WBAP artists who will appear with Lum and Abner are, The Rythemettes, girls harmony trio and Bill Pennington, the blind pianist with Herb Sothard, chief announcer at WBAP, acting as Master of Ceremonies.

HINTED MID-WEST UNDERWORLD BACK OF DISAPPEARANCE

CHICAGO, Sept. 12—(AP)—A hint that Midwest underworld members may have been responsible for the disappearance of Col. Raymond Robins, missing prohibitionist and friend of President Hoover, came today from Dr. Daniel A. Poling, head of the allied prohibition forces.

Dr. Poling said he had "several new leads" in the search for the missing man and that among them was a "series of threats against Col. Robins by underworld characters of the Midwest."

Dr. Poling arrived here shortly before midnight by airplane from Portland, Ore. He planned to confer today with prohibition agents and furnish them, and other officials, with what information he possessed.

Meanwhile, prohibition officals at Washington, aiding in the hunt, were holding to ther previously expressed belief in two other theories. They thought Robins, who disappeared while on his way to visit President Hoover, was either the victim of amnesia or that Russian czarists were responsible for his disappearance.

The Colonel was reported to have been active recently in seeking rcognition by the United States of Soviet Russia. As a result he was reported to have received threats from Russian imperialists.

PRESIDIO BRIDGE AND DWELLINGS ARE WRECKED BY FLOOD

SOLDIERS AVAILABLE FOR EMERGENCY; FARMS AND COTTON ARE DAMAGED

By WILLIAM S. WHITE
Associated Press Staff Writer)

BROWNSVILLE, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Another slight rise in the swollen Rio Grande was noted here today as the mighty stream licked at its levees on the American and Mexican sides.

The government weather bureau which announced a flood stage here of 18.3 feet, up one-tenth foot since yesterday, said there might be other fractional rises, especially if the wind should veer to the southeast, but W. J. Schnurbusch, head of the bureau, said he thought it would require at least one and a half feet more water to send the international river over restraining levees.

"Undoubtedly there will be no such rise," he added.

Meanwhile, Hidalgo, further upstream, also reported a rise in the flood stage. It was standing 23.3 feet there this morning, up three-tenths of a foot.

At Rio Grande City, still farther up, the stage was 22.5 feet, a fall of eight-tenths foot since yesterday.

Mercedes again reported the stage stationary at 21.8 feet. At Lyford, some 50 miles north of Brownsville, waters from one of the main valley floodways broken in that region had crept to within a quarter of a mile of town.

Lowlands, which had been evacuated around Sebastian, ten miles from Lyford, were still inundated, although water had gone down some two inches since yesterday.

It was possible to walk in most parts of the village, as the water was shallow. Considerable damage had been done to household furnishings and the like, especially in the Mexican section.

Schnurbusch explainned the rise at Hidalgo by saying that sections was catching flood waters which passed upstream points last week. He said the crest probably would pass Hidalgo this afternoon, although no great rise from the present stage was expected.

Much of the water now flowing past Hidalgo, will never reach the Brownsville section, since it was everflowing big ereas of the lowlands, Schnurbusch said.

PRESIDIO, Sept. 12.—(AP)—The International bridge and several United States government buildings at Presidio were washed away today by the Rio Grande, flooded by a 38-foot rise in the Concho river, which flows into the Rio Grande just above Presidio.

The United States Customs, immigration service and public health buildings were swept away by the torrent. The home of the toll bridge owners was wrecked. All residents of the farming area along the river evacuated. It was reported that crops in the lowlands were ruined and 1,500 bales of cotton were under water.

Heavy rains on the watershed of the Concho river caused the destructive rise. At Presidio the Rio Grande reached a stage of 20 feet last night. It had fallen one foot by noon today.

The toll and railroad bridges at Presidio were resisting the flood. Water rose to within a foot of the floor of the toll bridge.

A detachment of soldiers from Fort D. A. Russell at Marfa arrived at Presidio last night and was standing by to aid in any emergency. No deaths had been reported.

BROWNSVILLE, Sept. 12.—(AP)—The Rio Grande, swollen from flood waters that had swept down through all the extreme southern border of Texas, stood early today at its level of yesterday, .2 foot above flood stage, which is 18 feet.

Nobody officially could predict whether the International river had reached the peak of its rise, which had sent its muddy waters within 30 feet of one business section of Brownsville, largest city in the lower Rio Grande Valley.

But three came assertions that Brownsville would not be endangered and that the flood had run its course. Meanwhile in Willacy county, 50 miles to the north of Brownsville, two towns were in the path of waters spreading out from the north floodway. One of two which course through the lower valley. Flood waters rolled toward Lyford, ten miles to the north of Sebastian, which already had been inundated. Lyford practically had been evacuated, though some residents stayed to see what would happen.

At Sebastian water was about 18 inches deep in the streets. Those who remained in Lyford expressed no alarm and said there was no prospect of loss of life. They expected the water to be no deeper than two feet on the average.

Towns along the river proper had reported no further rises.

Claim Noted Outlaw Still Lives Though Supposed Be Slain

ODESSA, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Billy the Kid is reported to be alive, although history states he has been dead more than 40 years.

The notorious New Mexico outlaw was supposed to have been killed by Pat Garrett, United States marshal, but, according to a statement made by an ex-rancher living in Mentone, Texas, a few miles west of Odessa, remains alive.

Billy the Kid, the new version goes, lives in a small town west west of Odessa, a white-haired old man, who plays the fiddle at country dances, no longer fears the law, but still fearing vengeance of friends of those he killed.

This ex-rancher claimed to have sheltered Billy the Kid the night he was supposed to have been killed. "Sheriff Pat Garret," the rancher said, "instead of killing the Kid, gave hi momney to escape because he liked the Kid."

The ex-rancher for years has contributed to the support of the outlaw, according to the rancher's story.

NEGRO IS JAILED AFTER OFFICERS CLAIMED FIRED AT

A negro is in the county jail and has been fined $1 and costs on a disturbance of the peace charge as a result of an altercation in the Barry community Sunday afternoon which seems to be of serious proportions for a time, it was reported Monday afternoon.

J. W. Phelps, constable, and Luke Varnell, justice of the peace, received a call of an altercation in which the negro and the negro's wife had engaged.

The negro is alleged to have fired at the Barry officers with a high powered rifle and Deputy Sheriffs Walter Hayes and J. M. Westbrook answered the call for re-inforcements. The accused negro was arrested and brought here. He maintained he did not remember shooting at anyone and claimed the gun must have been accidently discharged.

SERIES OF THEFTS CLEARED UP AFTER YOUTHS ARRESTED

Three white youths have been arrested on charges of burglary and theft and formal complaints charging these offenses have been filed in Justice of Peace Sam B. Jordan's court, Chief of Police Will S. Knight reported Monday morning. Two others have been arrested on charges of receiving and concealing stolen merchandise.

The youths were arrested by Chief Knight and Detectives Griffin and Tickle in connection with a number of recent cigarette thefts from Corsicana retail and wholesale grocery concerns. They are reported to have made statements concerning the thefts.

According to the officers, one of the youths admitted burglarizing one of the A. and P. stores on July 9, and Jackson Cash grocery on West Fifth avenue on July 14. He was joined by a companion in the burglary of the Safeway Store on July 18, according to officers, and the pair also entered the Jackson store again on August 11. Three are alleged to have participated in the burglary of the Navarro Wholesale Grocery company on August 15, stealing the car of Truman Bragg from its parking place near the Navarro Clinic to haul off the loot.

Chief Knight said that auto theft charges would be filed also against the boys in addition to the other charges. Officers were continuing their investgation into recent burglares Monday.

K. Wolens Opens Department Store In Longview, Tex.

The following concerning the opening of the K. Wolens Department store in Longview appeared in a recent issue of the Longview Morning Journal:

"The Longview Morning Journal's increasing efficacy at 'telling 'em over their soffee cups' was indicated in no uncertain proportions Friday when the K. Wolens department store formally threw open its doors to the Longview buying public.

"The Wolens Company, astute in advertising as in merchandising, departed from the custom of making 'the big smash' on the day preceding the opening. They drove home the idea in a full-page display ad on the very morning of the opening.

"The result was a crowd of bargain conscious people whose number grew periodically with such intensity from opening time at 8 a. m. that the firm itself was forced to grow periodically.

"That is to say, it became necessary to open the doors only at 30-minute intervals in order that the near-distressed clerks might have opportunity to give each customer the attention merited.

"And early last night, the 30-minute influx of customers was still in order.

"You can sell 'em if you tell 'em."

vegetable oil, and with a lit-
anolin, which is highly nour-
g, or with cocoa butter. And,
ides, with rose water or liquid,
make a creamy emulsion.

A good formula is: one ounce paraffin, two ounces of lanolin. Melt slowly into six ounces of almond oil. Add six to ten drops of oil of rose geranium oil of rose, oil of bitter almond, or any scent you like, to a dram of alcohol, and add to the melted mixture when it has cooled a bit. I am told that a well-known wrinkle crea mis made by adding 15 grains of powdered alum to a dram of rose water. Four drams of gelatin are soaked in this until soft, and the whole heated gently with two ounces of glycerine. Eight ounces of mutton suet are added when melted, and a dram of tincture of benzoin is added. But I prefer a highly oily, very fat, thick wrinkle cream.

Five ounces of almond oil, one each of lanolin and white wax melted together, and then added to two ounces of warm rose water, makes a wonderful cream. This is flavored with 15 drops of oil of bitter almonds. This, or any wrinkle cream should be patted around the eyes at bedtime, as soon as wrinkles appear. And this can be massaged all over the face, after the skin has been washed, if the complexion is rough and dry.

Here's How to Make a Wrinkle Cream

E. M. L.—The quickest way to heal that blister inside of your mouth would be to have a doctor care for it.

A. J. T.—The drooping tendency of your eyelids may be just a natural thing, and therefore nothing that you could change.

Mrs. W. F. S.—The stamped, self addressed envelope was not enclosed, and if you will please forward it, I shall be glad to mail you the camphor lotion formula.

Miss B. T.—A flushed skin comes from some internal cause, and that would have to be cared for before there would be any improvement in the complexion. You might be greatly benefited by a few coloni cirrigations, or better still, have a doctor suggest just what you need to clear up the trouble.

chairman. Both were supporters of Mrs. Ferguson in the campaign.

Maury Hughes of Dallas was considered to have the inside track for chairman of the new state Democratic executive committee to be created by the convention. W. O. Huggins of Houston, editor of the Houston Chronicle, had been head of the party during the past two years.

Hughes was prominent in the national Democratic convention as one of the leaders of the Texas delegation. He was here to attend the convention.

Captain Frank Hamer and a contingent of Texas rangers were circulating around hotel lobbies, but it was apparent there would be little, if anything, for the colorful state constabulary to do in the way of enforcing the peace. It looked like a peaceful Democratic meeting.

While Gen. Jacob Wolters of Houston, former Gov. Dan Moody, Myron Blalock of Marshall, and others here were maintaining that their champion finally would be the legal nominee of the party, there was a noticeable shift toward the well known band wagon.

(Associated Press Staff Writer)

LUBBOCK, Sept. 12.—(AP)— The Texas Democratic executive committee met today to canvass the vote in the close race for the gubernatorial nomination between R. S. Sterling, the incumbent, and Mrs. Miriam A. (Ma) Ferguson. Neither of the candidates was present when W. O. Huggins called the committee to order.

What promised to be a spirited session seemed to have turned into a tame meeting. Senator Robert A. Stuart of Fort Worth announced that a formal protest to certification of Mrs. Ferguson as the nominee would be filed in the event she was found to have the most votes. Such action forecasted a contest in the courts of Mrs. Ferguson's nomination, based on allegations of fraud and election irregularities.

The committee's official canvassing of the returns was temporarily delayed because of a belated train. The returns had not been received and were in the mail carried on the train.

James E. Ferguson, husband of Mrs. Ferguson, was late in arriving at the meeting. He walked in and was greeted by many spectators, who had been filling the hall gradually.

Ferguson said he had not agreed to any kind of temporary convention set-up. It had been reported that the Ferguson element would agree to give the temporary organization to Sterling forces in return for an agreement that the permanent officers would be Ferguso partisans.

Governor Sterling arrived this morning to attend the convention. He said he did not want to talk about the situation. The governor was accompanied by Dan Moody former governor.

Committees Named.

Charles I. Francis of Wichita Falls proposed that a committee of three be named to tabulate and consider the official returns. He also asked that a sub-committee be named to draft resolutions and that a third group act to recommend temporary officers of the [illegible] convention, which meets tomorrow.

The committees were instructed to report at 2 p. m.

W. O. Huggins of Houston, chairman of the state executive committee, named the committees as follows:

Canvassing—J. I. Wheeler of Texarkana; Joseph Frank Weimer and R. J. Edwards of Denton.

Temporary Organization—R. E. Underwood of Amarillo; C. I. Francis of Wichita Falls, and D. F. Stanley of Huntsville.

Resolutions—W. R. Montgomery of McAllen, Carl Estes of Tyler, and Mrs. A. B. Sheppard of Victoria.

The returns finally arrived and were officially opened before the committee, preparatory to the subcommittee canvass. All counties except four sent in "true copies," Albert Sidney Johnson of Dallas, secretary, announced.

He said official returns had come in from every county but that "true copies" still were lacking from Cass, Childress, Edwards and Harris counties.

Representatives of each of the major candidates were invited to attend and witness the canvass of the returns by the sub-committee.

LUBBOCK, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Partisans of Mrs. Miriam Amanda Ferguson and Governor R. S. Sterling flocked here today for tomorrow's democratic state convention. Today the state executive committee had before it the delecat business of convassing returns from the A g. 27 runoff primary, at which both Sterling and Mrs. Ferguson claim to have received the gubernatorial nomination.

The prosupect was that Mrs. Ferguson would be declared the nominee and that Sterling supporters would proceed to contest the matter in the course. Reports from party chairmen of the state's 254 counties showed a few days ago that Mrs. Ferguson had a majority of about 4,000 votes of the nearly one million cast. That result remained unofficial because it had not beer convassed by the state committee, which will report its own canvass to the convention.

The state supreme court has held that the committee and the convention must accept the returns as reported by the county chairmen.

Sterling supporters, who have been busy collecting evidence ever since the primary, claim to have proof that 20,000 illegal votes were cast in a group of counties which gave Mrs. Ferguson a majority. Texas rangers have been used in the investigation.

Charles I. Francis of Wichita Falls, who will be floor leader for Sterling in the convention, said he favored letting the delegates declare Mrs. Eerguson the nominee and immediately bringing suit to contest the result in district court at Austin.

Nevertheless, there was no assurance that the Sterling forces would follow such a lan. Whatever strategy might be adopted, bitter disputes appearer certain.

New York Cotton Steady.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady, 12-14 lower on easier Liverpool cables and under Southern hedge selling. Oct. 8.00; Dec. 8.15; Jan. 8.19; March 8.31; May 8.42; July 8.52.

Continued selling for Southern acocunt and general hestitation of buyers due to the easier stock and wheat markets resulted in a further loss after the opening. Favorable weather last week for picking and moving the crop was thought to have brought out more cotton from the interior and a sharp reaction in the Liverpool market from a steady opening served to undermine confidence among local buyers. The weather map indicated continued favorable weather in the west but showed cloudy conditions with light rains along the Gulf and in Southern Georgia while the weather bureau reported a Gulf disturbance south of Galveston.

The textile statistics for August showed the lowest mill stocks ever recorded and a very sharp increase in sales and unfilled orders, but the figures were in line with predictions made last week and had comparatively little influence. December sold early at 8.15, declined to 8.05 and rallied to 8.07. At the close of the first hour the entire list was 16 to 19 points net lower.

Further reactions occurred late in the morning under liquidation, Wall Street and Southern selling promoted by declines in the stock and gain makets. Although some trade buying developed on the declines, slight rallies brought out increased pressure and the tone of the market was rather heavy with stop orders uncovered in December as it declined below 8c level, and all months eased 10 or 15 points below the lows established following publication of the September government estimate on Thursday.

December sold off from 8.15 to 7.88 with the general market declining to net loosses of 32 to 37 points and at midday prices were within a point or two of the day's lows.

Futures closed barely steady, 42-45 lower. Oct. 7.64-65; Dec. 7.80-82; Jan. 7.86-87; March 8.02-03; May 8.12-14; July 8.21-22 Spot quiet; middling 7.75.

New Orleans Cotton Easier.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Cotton opened somewhat easier today despite much better Liverpool cables than due and very bullish textile statistics for August.

First trades here showed losses of ellven points and although the market rallied slightly right after the start, it soon eased again owing to considerable hedge-selling and the fact there had been no reports of rain in the belt over the week-end. October dropped to 7.92, December to 8.08 and January to 8.15, down 18 to 19 points from Saturday's close.

Near the end of the first hour the market showed some inclination to rally and had recovered one to two points from the lows.

The textile statistics for August showed sales to have exceeded production by 282.4 per cent and unfilled orders at the end of August showed an increase over the preceding month of 113.1 per cent.

A rominent authority estimated domestic mill consumption for August at 395,000 bales. This figure was considered bullish.

The market ruled active but easier during the morning, prices gradually weakening on a decline in stocks and continued hedge selling. There was also selling by ring traders on the good weather in the belt. October finally traded down to 7.7', December to 7.88 and January to 7.96, or 36 to 38 points under Saturday's close.

There was a slight rally near midsession of 3 to 5 points on some covering by satisfied shorts but the general undertone was rather easier.

Grain and Provisions

Grains Turn Downward.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Influenced by New York stock market weakness and by lower prices on cotton, grain values tended downward today. Bears gave stress also to the Canadian government crop report and to lack of export demand for wheat from the United States. Opening 1-8 to 5-8 lower, wheat weakened further. Corn started 1-8 to 3-8 off and continued to sag.

Wheat closed unsteady, 1 3-4 to 2 cents under Saturday's finish, corn 1 3-8 @1 7-8 down, oats unchanged to 5-8 off, and provisions at 12 to 27 cents decline.

Field Activities Negro Home-Farm Agents for July

At the final general assembly of the negro demonstration clubs of Navarro county, Wallace, the farm agent, commended all the members for their interest and eagnerness to learn the improved methods of farming.

He emphasized the three F's, originated by J. C. McAdams, itinerant vocational teacher of Prairie View College.

He quoted McAdams as saying the three F's mean "Faith in God, Ford in the Shed, and Family in the Field.

Twenty-five or more men and women have paid the sum of $25 per month to keep the demonstration agent in Navarro county for the negroes so far this year and a wonderful amount of assistance has been given to the negro women of this county and we beg of you to assist in this in order to meet the requirements of the state to keep this agent. Mrs. L. P. Lisher here. Investigating all the good work and please lend a helping hand.—Mrs. Emma H. Townsend.

Commissioners

intimated he believed the large vote was in part responsible due to the publicity given by local newspapers prior to the tax election, with especial reference to the fact that the tax was voted on when the $7,000,000 county-wide bond issue was defeated several years ago.

The report on the P. and S. Hospital showed a deficit of $360 for the month of August.

The proposed budget is providing for an increase of the general fund levy from 20 cents to 25 cents and the one cent levy for permanent improvement fund is being discontinued. The jury levy of 4 cents is being increased to 5 cents, it was brought out in the discussion.

Budget Requirements

Under the budget, when it is adopted, no expenditures over that allowed in the budget can be made and the county will not be liable to pay any additional, it was pointed out. Each year must necessarily care for its own expenses and no carry overs will be allowed under the law, Judge Nash pointed out.

Dr. T. P. McLendon, J. N. Garitty and Wade Smith of the hospital board appeared for a hearing on the hospital portion of the budget. Under the budget being considered, only $3,600 is being appropriated to care for the deficit of the hospital. During the past twelve months, the deficit has amounted to $5,700.

Hospital officials are of the opinion the hospital cannot be operatedd on less than $400 per month, or $4,800.

To Seek City Aid.

In discussion relative to an effort to get aid from the city government, Dr. McLendon said much of the deficit was caused by accidents in Corsicana and that figures of the institution shows that 75 per cent of the charity work of the hospital is from Corsicana. It was intimated the city would be asked to contribute $100. per month.

R. D. Fleming, city commissioner, was present, and said he favored the city helping with the hospital expense, but he could do nothing alone. J. N. Edens, president of the First National Bank, also spoke in favor of the city helping with the hospital, pointing out other counties received aid from city governments in the operation of hospitals.

The discussion of the budget relative to the hospital was still in progress at the noon hour.

Claims were allowed except as noted on the claim docket.

County Prisoners.

County Judge Clay Nash said he had an opinion from the attorney general to the effect that prisoners could be kept in the county jail instead of being sent to the county farm to work out fines. He said the law provided that the prisoners fined could be kept in jail and be allowed $3. on their fines and costs per day, while those sent to the county farm were allowed $1 per day. Another feature of the law, Nash said, was that the fees of officers in the cases where the prisoners are kept in jail would not be allowed, thereby saving hundreds of dollars to the county. The prisoners "laying out" their fines in the jail would cost the county only a few dollars to the sheriff for feeding the prisoner, while if the prisoner is sent to the farm, half of the officers cost would be paid by the county in addition to feeding and guarding him while he worked out his fine.

It was pointed out that if this procedure was adopted by the local court, the operation of the county farm would be materially cut and also the payment of fees to officers would be reduced.

If this plan is adopted, the county farm will probably be kept only to provide a home for the paupers and indigent people the county must care for.

Schools

Total enrollments for the past five years prior to 1931 were: 1926 2802; 1927, 2741; 1928, 2762; 1929, 2950; and 1930, 3056.

Holidays Announced.

Holidays will include circus day, Armistice Day, Nov. 11, 1932; Thanksgiving holidays, Nov. 24 and 25, 1932; Christmas holidays, Dec. 22 to Jan. 2, 1933; Washington's Birthday, Feb. 22, 1933; and interscholastic League Day, the date not yet determined.

Mid term will be from Jan. 14 to 20, 1933, and final examinations will begin May 22, and continue through May 25, 1933. Commencement exercises will be held May 26, 1933.

Schools will be in session on Saturdays Jan. 14, and 21, 1933. This is necessitated by an additional day given during Christmas season, and "Interscholastic League Day." In addition to Christmas holidays, only 5 other days are allowed for holidays, by the Southern Association of Secondar Schools, with which the local school are affiliated. To keep its standing with this association, the local schools must be in session 175 days of the year.

The only major change in faculty, was necessitated by the recent marriage of Miss Catherine Whitten, Spanish teacher. The vacancy left by her resignation was filled by W. B. Jones, former English teacher, and his place in the English department is being taken by Miss Hortense Levant, former junior high school teacher, who spent last year in study.

Urged Send Children School.

School officials urged people who do not have the means to provide school supplies for their children to send their children to school, and the teachers will be lenient with them regarding their supplies. It was pointed out however, that the schools will furnish the school supplies.

The only white schools showing an increased enrollment this year over the first day last year were the Sam Houston, with an increase of 16, and the high school with 8.

Decreased enrollment in other white schools were: Junior high school 76; Robert E Lee 17; William B. Travis, 29; David Crockett, 17; and Stephen F. Austin 14; Jackson high school showed an increase of 20 over the opening day last year, and the Washington colored grade school decreased 8.

School officials attributed the decreased enrollment of 117 to the fact that many children are picking cotton, and will not be able to register for some time yet.

ATTORNEY GENERAL CLAIMS LARGE PER CENT OF BONUS MARCHERS WERE CRIMINALS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Pelram D. Glassford, superintendent of police, today challenged the accuracy of the report on the bonus army made to President Hoover by Attorney General Mitchell, denying that he had asked for or approved a request for troops to quell rioting last July 28.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—(AP)—A report from Attorney General Mitchell that federal troops summoned during last summer's encampment of the bonus army here were "necessary to and did prevent further disorder and bloodshed" today was before President Hoover.

"In their absence, further rioting would have occurred with further bloodshed among bonus marchers and police and possibly innocent bystanders," Mitchell advised the President after an investigation of police and other official records.

"It is probable the bonus army brought into the city of Washington the largest aggregation of criminals that had ever been assembled in the city at any one time," his report said.

The 4,000 word document covering findings in the investigation ordered by President Hoover was made public by the chief executive with a short statement that it "should correct the many misstatements of fact as to this incident with which the country has been flooded," Mr. Hoover added:

"I wish to state emphatically that the extraordinary proportion of criminal, communits and non-veteran elements amongst the marchers as shown by this report should not be taken to reflect upon the many thousands of honest, law-abiding men who came to Washington with full right of presentation of their views to congress."

Mitchell reported that 877 of the first 3,656 men named on the B. E. F. roster could not be identified as ex-service men and that of the 4,723 applying for transportation home, 1,065 had police records and 829 of these had been convicted. Communists he said, promoted the march on Washington and then sought to incite the marchers to disorders. He added:

"On the other hand, a very considerable number were genuine ex-service men of good intentions and clean records. This is particularly true of the conditions prior to the adjournment of congress. After the adjournment of congress, the quality of men in the bonus army steadily deteriorated."

Publication of the justice department report brought immediate comment from bonus army leaders. In New York, Walter W .Waters, commander of the B. E. F., said:

"Mr. Mitchell's charges are absolutely without foundation in fact. x x x It was Mr. Mitchells job to furnish this information and he did the best he could. x x x

"I regret this statement was timed for the American Legion convention as it will only antagonize thousands of veterans who had begun to forget what took place in Washington. x x x

"After a careful study a complete answer will be prepared and issued'."

R. B. Ellison, who said he was national organizer of the Khaki Shirts of America, and former contact officer of the Bonus Army in a statement here termed the Mitchell report a "political alibi."

Much of the report was given to discussions of communist activity. It said the communist central organ, the "Daily Worker," urged delegations to join the Bonus Army and said frequent communist meetings were held here, "at many of which incendiary speeches and plans to stir the bonus army to violence and bloodshed were made."

Among communist leaders participating, the report named Emanuel Levin, John T. Pace, James W. Ford, Clair Cowan and Sylvester G. McKinney.

Would Censure Hoover

AUDITORIUM, Portland, Ore., Sept. 12.—(AP)—Insisting a resolution censuring President Hoover's administration over the ousting of the bonus expeditionary force, at Washington, D. C., July 28 be brought onto the floor, the Pennsylvania delegation to the American legion convention today girded itself for a fight to pass the measure.

The resolution presented to the resolutions committee is the same as that passed by the state deparment at its Pittsgurgh convention. The resolution is expected to bring opposition, members of the delegation said, and if the committee by a majority vote rejects it, a minority report will be brought by George Brown, Pennsylvania member of the resolutions committee.

for Burleigh Martin, their candidate for governor, by "mor than 25,000 votes." Louis J. Brann, the democratic candidate, believed he would win by 20,000. Brann favors repeal of the prohibition amendment. Martin was noncommittal in his campaign talks.

Prohibition Issue.

Among tomorrow's primaries the prohibition issues arises in Michigan in the efforts of two former congressmen, Crampton and Hudson, to win republican renomination. Each was an active prohibitionist and each was defeated two years ago by an anti-prohibibitionist. Candidates for state office and seventeen house seats also will be named by Michigan voters.

Prohibition echoes also from the state of Washington where Senator Jones, author of the "five and ten" law which put teeth in prohibition enforcement, is opposed for renomination by Adam Beeler. Two Seattle men, Stephen Chadwick and Edwin Brown, want the democratic nomination.

Senator Huey Long figures sharply in Louisiana's primary, although not himself a candidate. He has campaigned vigorously against the renomination by Louisiana democrats of Senator Broussard and in favor of Representative Overton for the place.

Dale Is Unopposed.

In Vermont, Senator Porter H. Dale, republican, is unopposed for renomination. Fred C. Martin, also unopposed, will be his democratic opponent in November. Prohibition has been a topic of the campaign of Congressman Ernest W. Gibson and Loren P Pierce for republican nomnaton for Vermont's single seat in the house. Gibson advocates resubmission. Pierce has urged repeal.

New Hampshire's senior senator, George H. Moses, has spent little time campaigning for renomination. He is unopposed save by Joseph L. Richards, new to New Hampshire politics, who has asked voters to write in his name on the ballot. He faled to file in time to have his name appear.

Perennial Governor.

In Arizona the seven-times governor, George W. P. Hunt, 73 years old, will have four opponents for the nomination. The party registration in Arizona is four to one as regards democrats and republicans but the first time in the state's history the republicans are placing a full ticket in the field.

In South Carolina, it is strictly a senatorial affair, the voting being on the question of whether Senator E. D. (Cotton Ed) Smith or former Senator Cole I. Blease will be the democratic candidate for the seat now being held by Smith.

On Wednesday Congressman Crisp and Governor Russell will contest in Georgia for the nomination of senator on the democratic ticket.

Maine Has Nation's Eye.

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 12.—(AP)—Once every four years Maine catches the political eye of the land with its election two months ahead of the rest. Today was the day.

The state voted for a governor, three members of the house of representatives, state legislators, county officials and on a proposal to increase the state tax on gasoline from four to five cents a gallon.

Outside the state, political commentators and party leaders were ready to interpret the outcome of today's election for its effect on national political fortunes.

At home, the voters were principally curious to learn what success the new 1932 model democratic vote-gleaning machine has had in harvesting support for its candidates where little but republican votes had bloomed before.

Friend and foe alike acknowledged the democrats had made their most active campaign since 1914. That year Maine democrats captured the governorship and elected one of their congressional candidates.

Not Indicated at Houston.

HOUSTON, Sept. 12.—(AP)—There was no indication today that the tropical storm lurking in the Gulf somewhere south of Lake Charles, La., wouldd strike this area, Weatherman L. H. Daingerfield declared.

Barometer readings along the Texas coast were a fraction lower than normal but no storm warnings have been issued for this area, he said.

Readings of the barometer were:

Brownsville 29.88; Corpus Christi 29.92; Houston 29.94; Galveston 29.90, and Port Arthur 29.94.

High temperature here during the last 24 hours was 87 degrees at 3 p. m. Sunday, while the low was 70 degrees at 6:30 a. m., Monday.

Mr. Daingerfield said that the last reports of the storm located it at 200 miles south of Lake Charles, La., or about 160 miles from the coast line in that section.

Three Hundred Miles Away

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—(AP)—The tropical disturbance moving across the Gulf of Mexico was reported early today by the weather bureau to be centered about 300 miles southeast of Galveston, and moving inland at a rate of six miles an hour.

Because there were few boats in the west gulf region, the bureau has had only one direct report from the storm center. That came late last night from the steamer Morazan.

At its present speed the disturbance would not reach the coast before late tomorrow.

Before then the bureau expects it to pass more frequented shipping lanes so it can be better plotted. Present reports indicate, forecasters said, the winds velocity at the storm center was under 30 miles an hour. Caution was advised to vessels.

GALVESTON, Sept. 12.—(AP)—No indication of a tropical storm, reported approaching the Texas coast, were evident here early today. At 7:30 a. m., the barometer was stationary at 29.91 and a brisk northeasterly breeze, which had been prevalent for a week, was still blowing. Campers were warned not remain on the beach here last night and cattlemen on the island were advised to gather in their livestock as a precautionary measure. The tide here this morning was normal.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—(AP)—The weather bureau today issued the following storm warning: "Advisory 10 a. m. more complete reports indicate gulf disturbance now central about twenty-six north, ninety-two west, moving slowly north-northeastward with increasing intensity. Caution advised vessels in its path."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—(AP)—The weather bureau today issued the following storm warning:

"Advisory: Northeast storm warning ordered 4 p. m., Pensacola, Fla., to Morgan City, La. Gulf disturbance central noon about 200 miles southeast mouth fo Mississippi river. Apparently moving slowly north northeastward. Lowest reported pressure 29.68 inches."

Auto Reported Stolen.

A Tudor Model A Ford, 1930, belonging to June Clark, was reported stolen from 1921 West Fifth avenue Saturday night.

The theft of the car was reported to the sheriff's office on Monday morning. No arrests have been reported in the case.

Germany

The chancellor talked with Speaker Goering, who gesticulated, shook his head and refused to listen.

Speaker Refuses to Heed.

Later it was reported that Herr Von Paper had wielded his decree of dissolution but the speaker would pay no heed to him pending completion of the vote which was to express non-confidence in the ministry.

Despite the parliamentary upset, there was no talk about resignation by the Von Papen government.

Many parliamentarians agreed that while the reichstag demonstration of independence was effective and showed an open breach between the baronial cabinet and the representatives of the people, still from the legal point of view the reichstag must be considered dissolved.

They pointed out that even a government not possessing the confidence motion the members of juridically entitled to countersign the government withdrew.

During the vote on the non-con-fidence motion he members of he government withdrew.

The reichstang session was crammed with surprises. The apparently innocuous communist motion appeared to catch the government napping and when the dissolution decree came it seemingly had little effect on the members.

Adjourns Until Tuesday.

The legislature adjourned until tomorrow and meanwhile the council or elders will debate future procedure.

There were rumors in the reichstag lobby that the government planned, if necessary, to use force.

Through its press department the government announced that it regarded the reichstag's action as unconstitutional and ineffective because it was committed by a parliament already dissolved. The constitution provides that government representatives are entitled to the floor during sessions of the reichstag, even outside the regular order of business.

The chancellor contends that he asked for the floor twice but was denied it and that his denial was a violation of the constitution.

Then, it was explained, he placed his decree of dissolution on the speaker's desk. By this act, according to the government interpretation of the events, the decree of dissolution became effective and the vote of confidence void.

The press bureau announced that the government's further course would be determined by the action of the council of elders which went into session this afternoon.

BERLIN, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Caught napping by the Reichstag opposition which passed a motion of non-confidence before he could promulgate a decree of dissolution, Chancellor Von Papen found himself today in a position of great uncertainty.

He will remain in charge of the government for at least several weeks longer, however, for the supreme court will be asked to decide the constitutionality of the events which made today's session of the Reichstag one of the most dramatic in a long time.

A single dissenting voice could have forestalled consideration of a communist motion coupling a declaration of non-confidence with a demand that the government's last emergency decree be rescinded but the government had not expected this turn of events and there was no objection to the motion.

Realizing too late what was going on, the Chancellor sprang to the rostrum with his decree of dissolution but the speaker waved him aside, asserting the vote would be completed before anything else was taken up. It carried by 513 to 32, with 50 members abstaining.

The Chancellor maintained that the vote was the act of a parliament already dissolved and therefore ineffective. Hermann Goering, the national socialist speaker, said the decree would be ignored and the Reichstag would be summoned for tomorrow.

Then he reconsidered and agreed to submit the issue to the supreme court.

It was understood that several states would contest the legality of the dissolution, probably Brunswick, Mecklenberg and Oldenburg, inasmuch as the Reichstag itself cannot appear while its existence is questioned by the government.

The litigation probably will require several weeks.

No Trace of Fliers.

ABERDEEN, Scotland, Sept. —(AP)—No trace of the "Flyin Hutchinsons" was reported today by the British trawler Lord Talbot, assisting in the search for the air tourists off the east coast of Greenland.

The captain of the trawler reported by wireless that he had arrived at 3:30 this morning in the vicinity indicated in Hutchnson's last radio message. He said he was using searchlights but that numerous icebergs made his work difficult.

Seek Rasmussen's Aid.

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Danish officials today were endeavoring to obtain the assistance of Knud Rasmussen, who has had varied experiences in the east Greenland waters, to search for the American "flying family" of Hutchinsons whose plane was forced down in the ice floes of the ocean near Angmagsalik yesterday.

It was learned that Rasmussen was aboard the motor ship T. H. Stauning in Lindenow Fiord, about 400 miles from where the Hutchinsons came down.

COMMISSION PLANS PROBE ALLEGED OIL THEFT EAST TEXAS

INJUNCTION AGAINST HUMBLE COMPANY IS SECURED BY ATTORNEY GENERAL

AUSTIN, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Attorney General James V. Allred today charged the Humble Oil and Refining company and the Humble Pipe Line company with issuance of orders in "furtherance of their scheme x x x to undermine and tear down the order of the railroad commission of Texas which raised the per well allowable in East Texas from 43 to 50 barrels per day."

The statement was made by Allred in a formal memorandum.

"It is commonly known," Allred stated, "that the Humble Company has been dissatisfied with said order but, fortunately, under the laws of Texas, it is the duty of the railroad commission to fix the allowable oil which may be produced and not the perrogative of the Humble Oil and Refining company."

The memorandum was occasioned by receipt of a telegram by District Judge W. F. Robertson, who last night issued an injunction restraining the companies from carrying out a proposed order whereby they would purchase only 50 per cent of the per well allowables set by the commission for the East Texas, North Texas and Panhandle fields. The telegram purportedly was signed by W. S. Farish, president of the Humble Oil and Refining company, and R. V. Hanrahan, president of the Pipe Line company.

Allred said the substance of the telegram was that orders had been issued to superintendents of the company instructing them to withdraw the offer of the Humble Pipe Line company to store oil produced in the fields and to run the Humble Pipe Line only 50 per cent of the allowable set by the commission. The superintendents also were instructed, Allred stated, to purchase only 50 per cent of the railroad commission allowable from wells to which they were connected.

"They intimated they were doing this in compliance with their understanding of the court's injunction," the memorandum stated. "We cannot conceive how any ordinary business man x x x could have placed such an unreasonable and unwarranted construction on the court's injunction. As a matter of fact, the mandatory injunction only prevented the Humble Pipe Line company from unlawfully disconnecting with any well to which they were connected and ordered the Humble Oil and Refining company and the Humble Pipe Line company to take and purchase from each operator to whose wells they were connected x x x in the same amount that they produced from their own wells."

The memorandum stated the attorney general understood the Humble had intended, starting today, to continue to produce 50 barrels from each of its own wells, "buying from themselves 25 barrels of it and storing for themselves the other 25 barrels, but refusing to purchase from independents and other operators to which they were connected more than 25 barrels of oil per day."

The injunction was obtained to prevent this situation, Allred said, which would have been "a clear discrimination in favor of their properties and against the properties of others who were not in a position to protect themselves."

AUSTIN, Sept. 12.—(AP)—The Texas Railroad Commission probably will hold hearings in the East Texas oil field to develop evidence bearing on charges that oil is being stolen and that conservation orders of the commission are being violated, Ernest O. Thompson, railroad commissioner, said today.

Commissioner Thompson said the commission would welcome any specific evidence of violations of either the commission's orders or the conservation statutes. Thompson said witnesses at the hearing would be sworn and the testimony developed under oath.

"If there is any illicit taking of oil, we want to know about it," he said.

He regarded it as likely that the hearing would be held in the near future.

Commissioner Thompson returned today from an investigation in the East Texas oil field. He reported that in every instance local officials in the area had offered to co-operate in running down the charges that oil was being produced illegally.

Action of Attorney General James V. Allred in filing an injunction suit against the Humble Oil and Refining company and the Humble Pipe Line company in which the companies were restrained from putting into effect a proposed order whereby they would reduce takings of crude oil in the East Texas, North Texas and Panhandle fields starting today was commended by Thompson.

The injunction specified the companies must purchase oil ratably fro mall wells in the field and must not take more from their own wells than were taken from other leases. It also prohibited the pipe line company from disconnecting any wells that now have pipe line connections.

Fred Upchurch, assistant attorney general who prepared the injunction petition, had interpreted the order of the Humble companies as a move to override the orders of the commission. Upchurch said he believed the companies were disgruntled at the recent order of the commission in raising the allowable for the East Texas field from 325,000 to 375,000 barrels daily.

Attorney General Allred delayed leaving Austin for the State Democratic convention to keep in touch with developments in the East Texas oil situation. He inddicated he would file other suits if he believed the facts warranted.

Commissioner Thompson said "it was strange that one company would apply for 260 well locations in view of the cry of overproduction in East Texas."
